MORE SHIPS HAVE REACHED SALONICA

Number of Transports Carrying French Soldiers Entered Port This Morning

LANDING OF TROOPS PROCEEDING RAPIDLY

Reported There Are 3,000 German and Austrian Officers in Bulgaria

London, Oct. 6.—The landing of additional French troops at Salonica is reported at Athens. The correspondent there of the Exchange Telegraph company says that a number of transports carrying French troops entered the port of Salonica this morning. He adds that the forwarding of French troops to assist Serbia is proceeding actively.

Proceeding Rapidly.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Eighteen thousand French soldiers have been landed at Salonica. The landing of the remaining force of between 70,000 and 80,000 is progressing rapidly.

All indications to-day point to early fighting in the Balkans. A dispatch from Rome says there are 3,000 German officers in Bulgaria.

Troops Welcomed.

Paris, Oct. 6.—"French transports arrived at Salonica on Friday night and troops began to land on Saturday afternoon," says an Athens dispatch to the Matin. "Perfect order was maintained in the city and the inhabitants gave the French soldiers a cordial reception.

"Reports received in Athens state that 3,000 German and Austrian officers have taken over the principal commands in the Bulgarian army."

Sixteen Hours.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Telegrams from Sofia to this city require an average of sixteen hours in transmission, and hence no news has arrived here concerning the events following the expiration of the time limit set in Russia's ultimatum. The press expects that the Russian demands will be refused.

ALL EYES TURNED TOWARD THE BALKANS

London Observers Are Making Predictions Regarding Greece and Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 6.—Revolutions in both Bulgaria and Greece, which will dethrone Czar Ferdinand and King Constantine and the establishment of republics in both countries, were predicted in London to-day as the almost certain result if their rulers force those nations into war as allies of Germany. Despite the almost certain entrance of Bulgaria into the war on the Teutonic side and King Constantine's evident determination to repudiate the treaty between Greece and Serbia, diplomats here believed that there still was a strong probability that the opposition of their peoples would block the plans of the two rulers.

From a score of sources reports reached London that the situation in Bulgaria was not favorable to the Teutons from the standpoint of the Bulgarian people, who cherish strongly their Russian connection. M. Malinoff, it is reported, still is firm in his opposition to Czar Ferdinand's policy and the masses of the Bulgarians look less favorable on the call to arms. It is reported that the mobilization is nearly 40 per cent. less than was expected. Little definite information as to the plans of the Bulgarian party which favors the entente nations is available, but London observers believe the forces of the nation may yet be swayed into repudiation of the action of M. Radoslavoff and the king.

Venizelos Supported.

King Constantine's acceptance of the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, it is pointed out here, does not alter the fact that the mass of the Greek people are behind Venizelos. King Constantine, it is well understood, has been influenced to oppose the popular will by his family relations with the kaiser, his wife being a sister of the kaiser, and prophets are plentiful here who state that his action may yet cost him his throne. Constantine, a foreign prince, they say, will not be permitted to run counter to the national aspirations of Greece to serve the kaiser's designs, and it is not believed impossible that if the king actively espouses the cause of the Teutonic allies, Venizelos and his party will raise an insurrection.

ARTILLERY DUEL IN THE GIVENCHY WOOD

Exchanges Continue In Artois District, According to French Official Report

GEN. JOFFRE'S MEN MADE PROGRESS AT ONE POINT

Made Gains Through Use of Hand Grenades in Connecting Trenches

Paris, Oct. 6.—The artillery exchanges in the Artois district have continued with particular violence in the vicinity of the wood of Givenchy, according to the official statement given out at the war office this afternoon.

The text of the communication follows:

"The bombardment in which both sides have been taking part has continued in the Artois district. It was particularly severe in the south of the forest of Givenchy. We have made some progress with hand grenades in the connecting trenches to the southwest of the Chateau of La Folie."

USED TO MASK REAL AIM IN MOBILIZING

Macedonian Question Not of Critical Importance at Present, Says Javanovitch

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The correspondent at Nish of the Novoe Vremya sends the following interview with Ljouba Javanovitch, Serbian minister of the interior:

"To mask her real aim in mobilizing, Bulgaria again has advanced the Macedonian question, which is essentially a Slavic family affair of secondary importance at the time of a world war. During the past year we twice have officially offered Sofia to make any reasonable agreement concerning Macedonia. The entente nations repeatedly have attempted to reach a peaceful solution of the question in order to avert the danger threatening Slavdom.

"All these efforts were unsuccessful, because there is no critical Macedonian question. The question is German influence—the complete subordination of Bulgaria to German interests.

"Germany is not interested in Slavic affairs. She merely is using the Macedonian question to promote her hegemony in the Balkans and complete the conquest of the Near East."

VICTOR EMMANUEL HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Italian King's Horse Was Wounded by Splinters of Shrapnel Shell

Udine, Italy, Oct. 6.—King Victor Emmanuel recently had a narrow escape from death or serious injury by shellfire while close to the firing line at the front. His horse was wounded by splinters of shrapnel, but the king was not hurt.

Desiring to assist in the direction of operation, the king was proceeding toward the front on horseback, having left his automobile because of the lack of a road. He rode in among his troops although he had been warned that the Austrian projectiles were claiming a number of victims. As he passed a certain point a shell exploded so near him that splinters struck and injured his horse. The king's composure was not disturbed, and when his suite urged him to retire he called for another horse, exclaiming: "Here we must win or all die." Then he rode in again among the troops, who with shouts of "Savoy," took the Austrian position by storm. The spot now is called the "King's Spur."

On another occasion, when near Monte Nero, he passed a small detachment that was exposed to bombardment by the Austrians from a mountain opposite the position. The king stopped his automobile and inquired whether there had been any casualties. On being informed that only one gunner had been wounded slightly, the king drove on.

The royal automobile was scarcely out of sight when the Austrian artillery fire was resumed, a large shell falling on the exact spot where the king had stopped, the explosion tearing a hole several yards deep. The king, hearing the sound of the bombardment, returned to the scene and photographed the smoking cavity where the automobile had just stood.

A VOICE FROM THE ARGONNE

—New York Herald.

"YES, FATHER, I REMEMBER YOU SAID THE WAR WOULD END IN OCTOBER."

ANOTHER BIG LOAN EARLY NEXT YEAR

Holden Intimates Americans May Have Opportunity to Supply More Money

London, Oct. 6.—The Daily Telegraph's New York correspondent sends what he asserts is an exclusive interview with Sir Edward Holden, in which Sir Edward declares that the members of the Anglo-French loan commission are completely satisfied with the result of the flotation of the big loan.

"Such a remarkable response," said Sir Edward, "is particularly gratifying to the commission, because it paves the way for any further offering, if such is considered necessary."

Sir Edward intimated, according to the correspondent, that there is a possibility of the British government bringing out another similar issue in the United States in January or February next. The success of the first loan had proved conclusively where the sympathies of the United States were in the present war. The commission regarded the moral effect of the offering as of the highest importance. The Germans actually had worked to the advantage of the loan. In all the cities, including Chicago, where the pro-German activity against the loan had been violent, there had been some heavy individual subscriptions.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE BY ROUMANIA

London, Oct. 6.—Reuter's Athens correspondent states that Roumania is hurriedly dispatching troops to the Bulgarian frontier and otherwise taking extraordinary military measures.

London, Oct. 6.—The Roumanians are feverishly fortifying Giurgevo, on the Danube, 40 miles south of Bucharest, across the river from Bulgaria, according to advices reaching Athens. Roumanian officers of Bulgarian origin are being transferred to interior points. The young reserve officers have been called upon and reserves which were to have been disbanded are being kept with the colors.

BULGARIAN SOLDIERS ARE NOT SATISFIED

Rome, Oct. 6.—Germans have lent Bulgaria $12,500,000 for the families of reservists to allay the dissatisfaction among the soldiers.

Bulgaria Has Sent an Ultimatum to Serbia, According to Reports

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—Bulgaria is reported to have sent an ultimatum to Serbia, dispatches received here to-day say.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—"Bulgaria has rejected Russia's demands and has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to information which has reached the Serbian Archimandrite Michael," says a Moscow telegram to the Bourse Gazette. "Bulgaria demands that Serbia reply to the ultimatum within twenty-four hours."

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—At noon the foreign office still was without a reply to the ultimatum sent to Bulgaria.

ALLIES ARE PREPARING FOR ANOTHER ATTACK

London, Oct. 6.—The situation in the west has reached a stage of renewal of preparations, following the recent allied offensive, and the Germans still are struggling to regain the ground lost. Extensive artillery action is prominent again on the French front, indicating that the positions won have been consolidated and that preparations for an attack are under way.

The Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, according to Amsterdam advices, has protested to the Entente powers against air raids over that country aimed at the German headquarters.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

Rome, Oct. 6.—It is said on good authority here that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary is dangerously ill and that the crown prince has been called to Vienna.

Baron von Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign secretary, and Count Tizza, the Hungarian premier, also have been called to the capital.

The news, it is stated, has been kept secret up to this time for fear of the influence it might have upon the international situation.

VENIZELOS SPOKE PLAINLY TO KING

Was Called to the Palace Yesterday; Resignation Came Unexpectedly

Athens, Oct. 6.—The resignation of M. Venizelos was altogether unexpected. He conversed with the correspondent of the Associated Press at noon yesterday in a manner which indicated the utmost confidence in the future course of his government.

Meanwhile, King Constantine came to Athens from Tatoi, the summer residence of the royal family, and summoned the prime minister to the palace. After a tense interview in which there was the plainest speaking, M. Venizelos proceeded to the chamber of deputies and announced that he had disagreed again with the king on the foreign policy and had presented his resignation and those of his colleagues of the cabinet. This announcement led to wild discussion of the formation of a coalition cabinet.

London, Oct. 6.—The position taken by King Constantine in his interview with M. Venizelos is said by the Athens correspondent of the Havas agency to have been that he could not pursue to the end the policy of the Venizelos cabinet.

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH ALLIES' PLANS

Paris, Oct. 6.—The landing of the French troops at Salonica and their prompt dispatch northward, across Greek territory, to the Serbian frontier, will proceed without regard to the cabinet crisis at Athens.

BRITISH AND FRENCH MINISTERS WILL LEAVE

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—It is understood here that the British and French ministers at Sofia have received instructions to leave Bulgaria if Russia severs diplomatic relations with that country.

The Bulgarian consul at Petrograd, M. Kamaxyref, departed last night by way of Finland.

Many Bulgarians residing in Russia, it is reported here, are offering to enlist in the Russian army.

KING HAS ACCEPTED RESIGNATION OF THE VENIZELOS CABINET

Once Again the Leader of the Greek People Stands By His Plan To Aid the Allies; He and His Colleagues Tendered Resignations When King Stated He Would Not Support Government's Policy.

London, Oct. 6.—King Constantine of Greece has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, according to an official dispatch which reached London to-day.

Athens, Oct. 6.—All the parliamentary leaders opposed to the war policy of M. Venizelos, who, with his colleagues of the cabinet, resigned last night, were summoned for a conference to-day with King Constantine. M. Venizelos' resignation came when King Constantine informed him that he was unable to support the policy of his ministry.

With a large part of an allied force of 70,000 already landed on Greek territory, the situation created by the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet is critical in the extreme. It was with the support of M. Venizelos that the allies were hoping to secure the active co-operation of Greece.

It was believed certain to-day that following the acceptance of the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, some leader strongly opposed to M. Venizelos' policy would be selected to form a new cabinet. It was rumored that M. Gounaris, former prime minister, whom M. Venizelos supplanted, would be returned to office.

London, Oct. 6.—Word has been received from Athens that King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, with which the king was unable to agree concerning the country's next step in the fast approaching Balkan crisis. The retirement of M. Venizelos and his associates came unheralded after the chamber of deputies had registered a vote of confidence in the ministry.

At 9.30 Last Night.

Official telegrams from Athens to the Greek legation here to-day said that M. Venizelos resigned office at 9.30 o'clock last night. No reasons were given, though the former clash of opinions between the king and the prime minister which resulted in the latter's temporary retirement from office, left little doubt that the present instance involved the now familiar issue raised by M. Venizelos' insistence that Greece strike quickly in behalf of Serbia and the entente powers.

It now seems certain that Bulgaria will align herself with Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey.

The matter doubtless will be brought to a head by the landing of an allied force at Salonica. Although the time allotted for the Bulgarian reply to Russia's ultimatum expired yesterday afternoon, King Ferdinand, so far as has been made known, has not seen fit to make answer in any form. It is assumed that hostilities in this new field cannot be averted.

If Bulgaria joins the Teutonic allies she will enter the war under conditions less favorable than a few weeks ago. The Russians, with reinforcements and a slowly increasing amount of artillery, seem to be striking harder blows daily, and the official communications no longer register measurable advances by the enemy.

Made Statement.

Athens, Oct. 6.—After his conference with King Constantine, M. Venizelos returned to the chamber of deputies last evening and made a statement as to the causes of the disagreement. He then announced the resignation of the entire cabinet.

The sittings of the chamber were suspended.

Paris, Oct. 6.—"In consequence of the resignation of M. Venizelos and the other members of the cabinet, the session of the Greek chamber has been adjourned," says a Havas dispatch from Athens.

In London.

London, Oct. 6.—London was pessimistic to-day over the resignation of M. Venizelos, prime minister of Greece. Failing to receive the support of King Constantine in his determination to enter the war on the side of the entente powers in the event of Bulgaria taking sides with the Teutonic allies, M. Venizelos handed in his resignation last evening, and it has been accepted.

Government officials here also were uneasy to-day over Roumania's refusal to mobilize, and strong indications that she will remain neutral.

A dispatch received here to-day from Petrograd said it was expected that all the representatives of the allied nations would leave Sofia at once.

WILL CONTINUE, SAYS GENERAL D'AMADE

Statement Indicates Allies Do Not Intend to Drop the Offensive

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The population of Petrograd, Moscow and other large centres has been increased enormously recently owing to the influx of refugees and the mobilization of 3,000,000 men.

In Petrograd a whole million have been added to the number of inhabitants and the food problem has become serious. Owing to the curtailment of the trunk line service and the lack of means of transport, the government has taken the food supply of the capital into its own hands. M. Krivoshein, minister of agriculture, has assumed responsibility for the purchase and transport of foodstuffs.

General D'Amade, of the French army, in an interview to-day announced that the principal object of his mission to Russia is to declare the faith entertained by all France in all Russia. He said:

"We are certain of a brilliant final result. We are all fighting for a just cause. We realize our road is at present difficult, but this does not dismay us. We shall continue to struggle persistently, confident of ultimate victory."

In reference to recent successes, the general said:

"We shall be able in the near future to deal fresh, and perhaps more powerful blows against the enemy's army."

ADMIT SUCCESSES WON BY RUSSIANS

Germans Claim Czar's Troops Finally Were Repulsed; Enemy's Plan Upset

Berlin, Oct. 6.—It is admitted in the official report issued to-day that the Russians gained some successes on the Dwinsk front, but it is stated that they ultimately were repulsed.

Attempt Has Collapsed.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—Heavy snows in the Baltic provinces are stopping Feld-Marshal von Hindenburg's attempt to drive toward Riga and Dwinsk. Military experts assert that efforts put forth by the Germans to make these two cities their headquarters for the winter have collapsed completely.

French reports are that Field-Marshal von Mackenzen is proceeding toward Serbia, and this belief generally is accepted.

German Allegation.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—The official statement from German army headquarters, under date of October 5, contained the following:

"Russian patrols are wearing German helmets in order to deceive German troops. It is evident that such Russians, when they fall into German hands, will be treated in accordance with the laws of war."

The foregoing was omitted from yesterday's official statement received from Berlin by way of London, apparently having been eliminated by the British censor.

DID NOT CATCH SHIP.

New York, Oct. 6.—The Norwegian steamship Drammensfjord arrived today from Sandefjord, Norway, and reported having been chased by a German submarine in the North sea between Bergen and Kirkwall. Captain Stenemark said he had escaped by driving his vessel at full speed and at the same time sending wireless calls which brought British patrol boats. The submarine then gave up the chase.

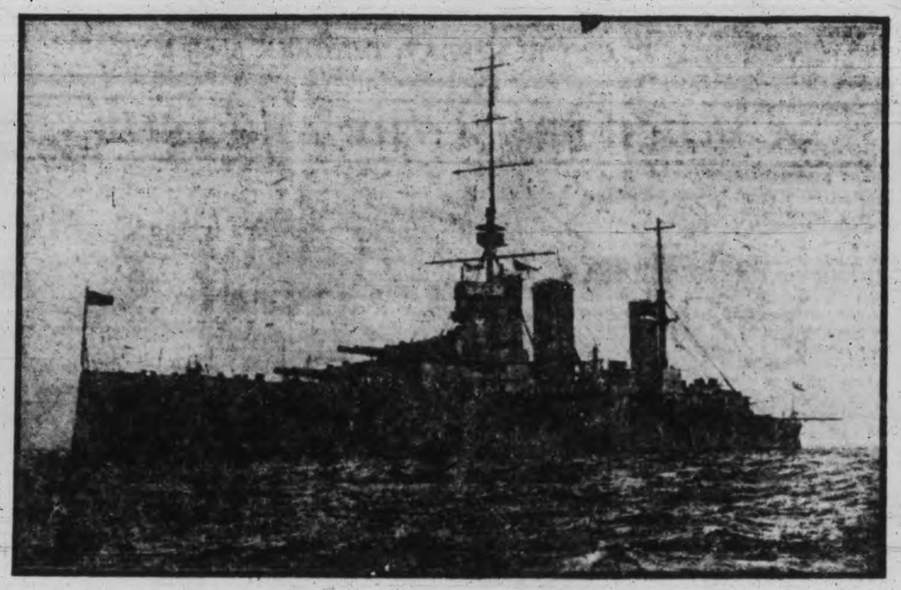
THE FASTEST LARGE BATTLE-CRAFT IN THE WORLD; H. M. S. QUEEN MARY



A dispatch from Washington Monday said:

"Naval experts have designed a battle-cruiser which will be capable of making a speed of 35 knots an hour. Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced this afternoon that several of the new type probably will be included in the new naval programme. Each will cost $18,000,000."

It is not the intention to express here any opinion whatsoever as to the probability of the naval experts of the United States, with the co-operation of a shipyard of that country, government or private, being able to produce a battle-cruiser with a speed of 35 knots, but only to set down the following interesting facts:

The British, who, as shipbuilders to the world at large, have had a greater and more varied experience in putting ships together than any other race in the world and who were the first nation to build a warship of the type known as the battle-cruiser, laid down in March, 1911, a battle-cruiser which was named Queen Mary, the designed speed of which was 27 knots. The vessel, with a displacement of 27,000 tons, was completed in 1913. When she was put through her trials she developed the amazing speed of 33 knots an hour. This makes her the fastest heavy warship in the world. (Since the war broke out, the British government in common with the governments of the other nations at war, has allowed to become public no information whatever as to the speed, size, guns or number of warships completed. Some months ago there were reports that the British were rushing to completion several battle-cruisers which were to have a speed of 36 knots and sixteen-inch guns. For obvious reasons there has been as yet no official announcement as to whether the Queen Mary will be forced to yield up the honor she holds.)

Next to the Queen Mary among the heavy warships of the world comes H. M. S. Princess Royal. That battle-cruiser has attained a speed of 32.4 knots. Next to her comes H. M. S. Lion, which has a record of 31.7 knots. The fastest warship of all types in the world is the British destroyer Swift, which has reached a speed of 39 knots an hour.

The fastest battle-cruiser the Germans have been able to produce is the Seydlitz, which was damaged by Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty's squadron in the North sea battle on January 24, 1915. The Seydlitz is credited with having reached a speed of 29 knots, having been designed for a speed of 26.5 knots.

There is not a heavy ship in the United States navy which has a speed of 23 knots. The nearest to that modest mark is the dreadnought Wyoming, which has reached 22.45 knots, her designed speed being 20.5 knots. The next fastest heavy ship in the American navy is the dreadnought North Dakota, which has attained a speed of 22.25 knots, her designed speed being 21 knots.

The three greatest dreadnoughts in the United States navy, the Pennsylvania, the Arizona and the North Carolina, the first two of which have been launched already, the three to be completed in 1916, have been designed to have a speed of 21 knots.

There is not a single battle-cruiser in the United States navy. The naval experts of the United States have had no experience with battle-cruisers, their present efforts to produce a very fast heavy ship being the first they have been called upon to put forth.

At the last session of congress a bill was passed providing for the construction of two submarines with a surface speed of 25 knots. After the measure had been passed by the lower house, the senate took it in hand and added the stipulation with regard to speed. As at that time there was not a known submarine in the world which had a speed of more than 20 knots on the surface, the experts perceived that they were faced with a task of no mean magnitude. They have been striving their utmost ever since to fulfill the requirements of the law but, as yet, as they have admitted to representatives of the press, they have not produced the design of an undersea craft which, having a surface speed of 25 knots, will meet all the extensive demands which are made upon a submarine under the conditions of modern warfare, as made plain during the present war.

SCALED PEAK AND DESTROYED TRENCHES

Italian Mountain Detachment Drove Several Austrian Detachments From Positions

Rome, Oct. 6.—The following official statement was issued last evening:

"In the Tonale zone, during the night of the 3rd, one of our mountain detachments, having scaled a rugged Torrone peak (at the head of the Strino valley), drove out several enemy detachments posted there and destroyed partly constructed trenches, afterwards returning to our lines after avoiding a violent artillery fire directed upon it by the enemy. Our batteries continue to shell the approaches to Torrone, thus preventing the enemy from reoccupying the position.

"In the Fella valley, during the night of the 4th, the enemy tried to attack our positions on the Pontebba torrent, but was repulsed.

"On the Carso plateau there have been the usual military actions. Many trains again are reported on the Trieste railroad between the stations of Nabresina and San Giovanni."

Vienna, Oct. 6.—The following official statement was issued last night:

"The situation on the southwestern front is without change. The enemy did not renew his attacks of yesterday against the plateau of Vilgereuth and Lafraun."

COLLEGES FEELING EFFECT OF THE WAR

Montreal, Oct. 6.—Although registration in most of the colleges in Eastern Canada still is incomplete, reports gathered indicate clearly the extent to which the young men of the Dominion are responding to the call of the empire. Registration at McGill will not close until the end of the week. Indications are that the total this year will be about 1,000, or fully 30 per cent. below the figures of the last two years. Toronto colleges closed their registration yesterday afternoon. They show a falling off of about 30 per cent. compared with last year. Mount Allison college, Sackville, N. B., has an enrollment this year of about 100, instead of 150 as heretofore. Enlistments during the past few days have made further inroads. Eight of the present students have signed on and sixteen others have enlisted on condition that a Mount Allison platoon of fifty-five be formed.

THE EARL OF DERBY APPOINTED DIRECTOR

In Charge of All Recruiting Stations In British Isles

London, Oct. 6.—The Earl of Derby, at the request of Lord Kitchener, has undertaken the direction of recruiting for the army.

"I feel somewhat in the position of a receiver who has been put in to wind up a bankrupt concern," said Lord Derby, referring to his new post at a Lancashire recruiting meeting, "but I hope to enable the creditors to receive twenty shillings in the pound."

Lord Derby explained that he had accepted the position of director of all recruiting stations throughout the United Kingdom because of personal loyalty and friendship for Lord Kitchener, who had asked him to take the post. While an advocate of national service, he would do as he had done, his level best to make the voluntary system a success. But if it should be demonstrated that all the men needed could not be obtained, he would resign office unless other methods were employed to make up the deficiency and keep Britain safe.

Much, he declared, would depend upon how the Trades Union congress redeemed its pledges to conduct a vigorous campaign in behalf of recruiting under the voluntary system.

The Earl of Derby served in South Africa as chief press censor and later as private secretary to Field-Marshal Lord Roberts during the Boer war. He has held office also as financial secretary to the war office and as postmaster-general.

London, Oct. 6.—The appointment of the Earl of Derby to take charge of recruiting comes at a moment when the recruiting problem is becoming the subject of serious public criticism. Lord Derby has been an indefatigable worker in striving to obtain the best results from the voluntary system. The Liberal papers are very hopeful of his success.

CARRIED THIRD LINE BEFORE THEY STOPPED

French Carried All Before Them in Wood Near Vimy

Paris, Oct. 6.—The attack of the French on the wood behind which lies the village of Vimy was made against very formidable defences, four lines of trenches with barbed wire entanglements. The Germans were well provided with solid shelters and their works fairly bristled with machine guns. By means of their communication trenches, they could pass in perfect safety right into the middle of the wood in their rear.

For days the French had been slowly sapping their way towards the first German trench and finally had approached so close that the French artillery, which had been deluging the Germans with shells, hardly dared fire any more for fear of disturbing the sappers.

When the order to move forward was given, the French dashed into the open with fixed bayonets. In places the wire entanglements still were intact and the German machine guns began to make gaps in their ranks. Yet, such was the irresistible dash of the French troops that they bore down everything. The Germans were seized with panic and began to flee along their communication trenches.

Dashing on, the French carried the half-demolished second line of trenches, and after that, the third line. Their onrush until then had been irresistible; their losses, if serious, were nothing compared with those of the Germans, whose bodies strewed the trenches. A very strong fort in the middle of the wood finally stopped their advance, but the French now are strongly entrenched close to the wood, at the foot of Hill 140.

GERMANS USED GAS SHELLS IN CHAMPAGNE

Artillery Duels in Artois, the Argonne and at Other Points

Paris, Oct. 6.—The following official communication was issued last night:

"A bombardment of a somewhat violent nature occurred on both sides to the north of La Scarpe and to the east of Arras. There was trench fighting with grenades and bombs in the sectors of Lihons and Andechy.

"In the Champagne the enemy continued, with the aid of asphyxiating shells, the bombardment of regions in the rear of our new front to the south of the Navarin farm and in the environs of Souain. Our artillery responded very energetically against the German trenches and works.

"The artillery action was almost continuous in the Argonne and in the sector from Hauyette to Les Eparges and in the forest of Apremont, and in Lorraine, near Moncel, Arracourt and Ancernviller.

"On the evening of October 4 the enemy attempted a sudden stroke against our posts to the east of Orbey, in the Vosges, but was repulsed completely."

MAJ.-GENERAL MURRAY IS CHIEF OF STAFF

London, Oct. 6.—Major-General Sir Archibald James Murray has been apointed chief of the imperial staff at army headquarters in London, according to the Times.

Major-General Murray was succeeded as chief of the general staff in March last by Major-General Sir Wm. R. Robertson. He already had established a record for gallantry in the war. He was inspector of infantry from 1912 to 1914.

ASKED TO BE ALLOWED TO RETURN TO CANADA

London, Oct. 6.—A Canadian munitions worker yesterday appealed to the Glasgow municipal tribunal for his clearance certificate on the ground that he had been informed incorrectly as to the conditions of service.

The applicant came from Vancouver. He was told that he could earn £4 weekly, with as much overtime as he was physically fit to work, that he would receive a subsistence allowance of 17s 6d per week, and that living on Clydeside cost about £1 weekly. He estimated his earnings at £2 10s weekly. A representative of the firm stated that the question of subsistence allowance was being considered now by the minister of munitions and the chairman adjourned the case until that decision has been received.

A QUESTION OF MEN, SAYS DAILY EXPRESS

London, Oct. 6.—Attacking the system of voluntary enlistment, the Daily Express to-day declares that the losses from the Gallipoli peninsula and in Flanders exceed the number of recruits, with a consequent shrinking of the army.

Referring to recent casualties in France, the Express asks:

"Have the results obtained been commensurate with the expenditure of lives? Are we in a position to continue flinging men into the zone of fire while recruiting progresses so slowly?

"We have a sufficiency of munitions, but it is now a question of men. The government gives no indication of taking adequate steps to fill the gaps made by the enemy's shells."

URGE ALL BARS IN MANITOBA BE CLOSED

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—A strong delegation from the Social Service Council of Manitoba waited upon Premier Norris and his colleague of the cabinet yesterday urging the closing of all bars in the province immediately as a war measure. A resolution was presented by the delegation setting forth its claim as to the necessity for the introduction of prohibition in order to maintain national efficiency in the present crisis.

EFFORTS IN EAST HAVE GROWN WEAKER

General Slackening in Activities of Germans Along Entire Front

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The following official communication was issued last night:

"There have been several engagements on the Riga front. North of Birshalen our troops occupied a portion of the German trenches. The fighting continues along the lines of lake Demmen, Dreswiaty, Medziol and Wichnew.

"In the region of Smorgon and farther south, as well as on the Upper Niemen, in the neighborhood of the village of Deliatichi, there have been continual skirmishes with the enemy who is endeavoring, but unsuccessfully, to advance in an eastern direction.

"South of the Pripet, after engagements on the Middle Styr, in the zone of the Kowel-Sarny railway, our troops occupied the villages of Voulk, Kollouzskais, Optowo, Woltchitzke and Medwieshka. In some places the enemy retired in disorder."

Growing Weaker.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—A general slackening of German activity has been noticed along the entire front.

Since the failure of the operations at Swentsiany, the German left wing has lost its activity. Likewise the right wing, after a series of unsuccessful engagements, has been unable, up to now, to alter conditions. Consequently the centre, having lost the service of the wings, is brought to a standstill by the determined Russian resistance.

Military experts explain that the German failure is chiefly due to the absence of reserves to relieve the cavalry. At Swentsiany they have been compelled to shift forces from the right flanks of Eichhorn's, Scholtz' and Gallwitz' armies over two hundred and fifty to three hundred and fifty miles of damaged roads.

The position of the Russians at Dwinsk is unshaken. The enemy's attempts at assault on Nowo Alexandrowsk, the nearest point to Dwinsk, were repulsed, and north of lake Dreaswiaty the violence of the Russian artillery has even put the Germans to flight.

At Lubtcha, northeast of Nowo Grodek, the Germans almost succeeded in crossing to the right bank of the Niemen. This was important to them for the purpose of turning the rivers Beresina and Bislotch, tributaries of the Niemen. However, the Russians threw them back with great losses.

In Caucasus.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—An official report issued yesterday on the operations in the Caucasus said:

"There have been no serious engagements on the whole of the front, except in the region of Van. At various points the Turks have attempted to advance in the direction of our frontier, but in all cases they were repulsed easily.

"Skirmishes between advancing guards have occurred in the region of the Black Sea, southwest of Khopa, and farther southwest as far as the confluence of the Choruk and Olti, in the region of Sawarcher. On the front of the confluence of the last named rivers, and farther southeast, in the direction of lake Tortoum and as far as Khorassan, there have been some successful reconnaissances by our scouts.

"In the region of Doutakh, on the Euphrates, south of Alaskhort, towards Melzhert and in the region of Arjich, on the northeast extremity of lake Van, calm prevails.

"Southwest of the town of Van our troops, having defeated the Turkish detachments, continued on the 3rd to pursue the enemy along mountain paths, where there are precipices and passes 8,000 to 9,000 feet high."

LOCAL OFFICIALS ALSO MADE FORMAL PROTEST

Milan, Oct. 6.—Correspondents at Salonica declare there is much excitement there concerning the landing of allied troops.

Local officials protested against a violation of neutrality, but realized, nevertheless, that the presence of German officers in the Bulgarian army and the concentration of Bulgarian troops on the Greek and Serbian frontiers justified any precautions the allies were taking.

Reports are current that the allies will disembark troops also at other Greek ports farther up the coast. The troops will not remain in Salonica, but will encamp outside the town and their movements will not interfere with the progress of the Greek mobilization.

London, Oct. 6.—German gunners have taken over the entire Bulgarian artillery.

London, Oct. 6.—Reporting a visit to the camp at Paderborn, where the Germans keep many of their prisoners, the American embassy says: "Lieutenants William O'Grady and C. R. Scott, of the Canadian forces, occupy a small room to themselves paying three marks each daily for this privilege. No prisoners at Paderborn made complaint, except as to their not being allowed to keep razors. All are in touch with home friends.

REPLY WHICH WAS SENT BY VENIZELOS

Text of Formal Protest Which Was Made Against Landing of Troops

Athens, Oct. 2 (delayed by censor).—The following statement was issued officially after a meeting of the cabinet to-night:

"The French minister delivered the following note to M. Venizelos, the prime minister:

"'By order of my government, I have the honor to announce to your excellency the arrival at Salonica of the first detachment of French troops, and to declare at the same time that France and Great Britain, allied with Serbia, send their troops to help the latter, as well as to maintain their communications with her, and that the two powers count upon Greece, which already has given them so many proofs of friendship, not to oppose measures taken in the interests of Serbia, of which country she also is the ally.'

"M. Venizelos replied:

"'By your letter of to-day you have been so good as to inform me of the arrival at Salonica of the first detachment of French troops, and of the decision of France and Great Britain to send troops to help Serbia, their ally, adding that the two powers count on Greece not to oppose measures taken in the interests of Serbia, whereof she also is the ally.

"'In answer to your letter, I have the honor to declare to your excellency that, being neutral in the European war, the royal government could not possibly authorize the proceeding in question, for it constitutes a breach of Greece's neutrality, the more manifest since it comes from two great belligerent powers. It is therefore the duty of the royal government to protest against the passage of foreign troops across Greek territory. The circumstances that these troops are destined solely to aid Serbia, Greece's ally, in no way modifies the legal position of the king's government, for even from a Balkan point of view, Greece's neutrality could not be affected before the actual casus foederis was committed by the danger now threatening Serbia, which caused the dispatch of international troops to her help.'"

The French and British officers who already have landed have been received most cordially by the local naval, military and civil authorities, and have been able to begin work immediately on their arrival. Public opinion is that it is necessary for the entente powers to give assistance to Serbia.

TWO WHO ARE PRISONERS.

London, Oct. 6.—The Canadian Red Cross has received the news that A. W. Smith, of the Thirteenth battalion, is a prisoner at Paderborn. He is believed to be private Smith (24174) who was reported missing.

Private Hill (23400), of the Seventh battalion, is a prisoner at the German marine lazaretto.

WAS KILLED.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Count Koenigsmarck, the famous turfman, has been killed while engaged in aeroplane work. The manner of his death is not described in the dispatches received here.

NEXT CASE WILL BE THAT OF LUSITANIA

Washington, Oct. 6.—Germany's disavowal of the act of the submarine commander in sinking the Arabic, with the accompanying assurances that the possibility of another such incident had been precluded through strict instruction to submarine commanders, was regarded by officials of the Washington government to-day as one of the most gratifying results secured by American diplomacy since the European war began.

The crisis in the relations between the United States and Germany is regarded as past. All that now remains of the Arabic case is the fixing of the indemnity. That phase will be taken up at a conference on a date yet to be determined, between Secretary Lansing and the German ambassador.

The next feature of the issue to be taken up will be the Lusitania case.

In a brigade of artillery a telephone set is supplied to enable the officer commanding the brigade to communicate with his three battery commanders.

WILL INVESTIGATE FURTHER.

The royal commission charged with the investigation of the purchase of the submarines has concluded its inquiry in Victoria. Although the morning paper, with a keen eye to political effect, has treated the incident as if it were closed and has pronounced judgment to the extent of three columns of its editorial space, the commission intends to prosecute its inquiries further. Not only will the investigation be kept open for a considerable time but the commissioner deems it desirable to examine the officials of the Electric Boat Company of New Jersey, who were averse from giving testimony when asked to do so before the commission came west.

It was unfortunate that Mr. Taylor was not permitted to appear as counsel in the inquiry. This is particularly true in the light of the evidence given by Mr. Paterson, "the strong pro-ally" who demonstrated his Canadian sympathies by extorting from this country a super-profit of $400,000 on two boats which had been thrown back on his hands by the government to whose order they were constructed. Had Mr. Paterson been subjected to the examination which his evidence and the extraordinary manner in which he gave it called for, his stay in Victoria would have been one of the most interesting experiences of his career.

The morning paper, of course, regards the whole inquiry as an outrage. This is faithfully in line with the attitude of the Premier from the commencement. It is the view which has prevailed in official quarters in this province in respect of the expenditure of public funds for ten years. It is an old, old story. We heard it when an opposition forced the appointment of a royal commission in connection with the Kaien Island scandal, which, although it exonerated the ministry, resulted in the subsequent dismissal of one of the ministers on the compulsion of the more respectable elements of the government party. It was urged when the demand arose for the investigation of the Songhees reserve transaction, which in most other countries would have brought about the overthrow of the ministry. Had similar oblique views prevailed at Ottawa the public accounts committee of parliament never would have discovered the appalling war graft by which the lives of our gallant soldiers were imperilled by foisting upon them ancient, broken-winded and crippled horses, defective binoculars and rotten shoes, and the treasury defrauded by vile harpies who should have been led before a firing squad.

If the commission does nothing else, its bare appointment establishes a well-known principle which has been callously ignored in this province—the right of the people to a full explanation of the expenditure of their money no matter how important and eminent the spenders may consider themselves to be. In the submarine transaction the sum of $1,150,000 was given to a foreign company for two boats which had been built for Chili for an amount running between $300,000 and $400,000 less than that. Sir Richard said the margin was $400,000. The boats had been rejected by the Chilean naval commission as defective. The auditor-general of Canada was unable to obtain the information which he required before he felt justified in authorizing the payment of the money to British Columbia. In fact it was not until he came to Victoria during Sir Richard's absence in England that he could obtain so much as a receipt for the amount given to Paterson. Neither Sir Richard McBride nor any other servant of the public is too big to be investigated by a royal commission when the avenue of information regarding large expenditures is arrogantly closed to those entitled to it. British Columbia has tolerated secret, obscure, labyrinthian transactions with public funds too long and her own well-being requires that her people should make an end of it.

B. C. AND THE PANAMA CANAL.

A recent issue of the Financial Post of Toronto contained an instructive article on the effect the Panama Canal finally will exercise upon the land freight rates between British Columbia and Eastern Canada. The writer discusses the matter chiefly from the viewpoint of the eastern Canadian manufacturer who realizes that the American producer will be able to ship goods by way of the great waterway to this province at such an advantageous rate that he will be in a position to pay the duty and still undersell his Canadian competitor.

According to the Post the opinion in railroad circles is that the problem will be solved largely by reduced transcontinental rates, although two other solutions have been advanced at Ottawa. One is that the government station a customs officer at New York to enable goods to be shipped by rail to that metropolis and from there under bond in the numerous British bottoms calling there to this province by way of the canal. This is the recommendation of the Victoria Board of Trade, which intends to press the subject for all it is worth. The other scheme is to subsidize a line of steamers from Montreal to Vancouver.

The Post writer does not think either of these propositions will be accepted. His reasons are, firstly, that Canada has more railroads than her present development requires and should do nothing to injure them; secondly, the government has a large interest in them and would hardly go out of its way to establish new routes unless it were shown that the roads could not meet competition. Whether the government accepts the alternative schemes to enable the eastern Canadian manufacturers to meet American competition in this province or not, the main point which concerns us is that the big interests in Ontario and Quebec are alive to the importance of holding their own in what the Panama canal has made a competitive market. That being so, the pressure they will be able to exert upon the transcontinental railway systems will do more to bring about a reduction of the land rates than all the resolutions that ever went forth from his coast. In fact, reductions already have been made in respect of certain commodities, one of which affects the movement of canned salmon, especially export consignments, to the east.

The war, which has vastly reduced commercial shipping and diverted the attention of the business world to the Old World, has restricted the effect of the canal upon the transportation situation, but nevertheless the divergence of freight traffic to the all-water route has been large enough to compel several of the big American railroads to reduce their rates to save their existence. We are not yet in a position to appreciate the far-reaching influence the new route will have upon the rates and methods of the trans-continental railroads. The Post's article, however, gives us something to look forward to, for if the big eastern Canadian and American manufacturing interests begin to fight for possession of the British Columbia market, with transportation rates being reduced as an incident of the competition, we in the province will be substantial gainers all round.

PLAYING WILHELM'S GAME.

The resignation of the Venizelos ministry is a startling development which it is hoped will not embarrass the arrangements made by the entente powers for checkmating Teutonic designs in the Balkans. In the face of Bulgaria's threat the Greek army had been mobilized; the allies had received permission to land troops at Salonica and the country had been committed by its first minister to the course which its honor and treaty obligations require it to pursue. Now King Constantine announces that he cannot approve of this policy and Venizelos has no other recourse than to withdraw from office.

King Constantine of Greece is strongly pro-German. He is married to a sister of the Kaiser, whose influence upon him appears to be decisive. Following the second Balkan war, in which Greece and Serbia defeated Bulgaria, he astonished Europe by announcing that Greece owed her successes to the German emperor. In view of the fact that the German emperor had encouraged Bulgaria to break up the Balkan confederacy and assail both Greece and Serbia this declaration was amazing to say the least. As a matter of fact Greece was armed with French guns, used French munitions and was financed with French money. While Constantine's statement was notoriously false it was instructive as disclosing his subservience to Berlin at the instigation of his dominant better half.

The attitude of the Greek people will be watched with keen interest. They elected Venizelos recently by a large majority in a campaign in which his well-known policy of a greater Greece was the sole issue. At that time there was no occasion for Greece to abandon her neutral attitude, which, of course, was entirely satisfactory to Constantine. But Bulgaria's threat at Serbia introduced a new factor in the situation. Greece and Serbia have a defensive treaty intended to meet such a situation. It was realized by the framers of the treaty that an assault by Bulgaria against one would mean an attack upon the other, for the objective of it would be Macedonia in Serbia and Thrace in Greece. Thus Venizelos was on sure ground—or thought he was—when he gave orders for a mobilization of the Greek army following the mobilization of the army of Bulgaria. When Bulgaria imported a large number of Austrian and German officers he gave permission to the allies to land troops at Salonica.

If the Greek people cherish the honor of their country, aside from the aspirations which have been immemorially associated with them, they will stand by Venizelos even to the extremity of hurling the Kaiser's emissary from the Greek throne. Not only is Constantine's attitude a deliberate affront to his subjects, a crude challenge of the popular will in accordance with the Prussian model, but carried to its logical conclusion it will reduce Greece to the degrading status of a German protectorate. But many times worse would be the everlasting stain which would rest upon her for the betrayal of her neighbor whom she was in honor bound to support.

The issue is clear enough. Will Greece stand by her king and submit to domination from Berlin or will she support her great statesman and choose the path of honor and duty, which in her case is certain to be also the path of glory? We venture to predict that the Greeks will do what most self-respecting people would do in similar circumstances and indicate to their ruler in no uncertain tone that they will stand by their treaty obligations even if it means that they will have to face the future without his assistance.

IT STANDS.

"An attempt is being made in certain quarters to make it appear that Commander Hose, of H. M. C. S. Rainbow, informed the commissioner that the shore batteries were sufficient for the defence of this port and Esquimalt. What he said was quite to the contrary effect. The local Liberal organ in its desire to make the Premier appear at a disadvantage has seen fit to discredit its own reporter's version of Commander Hose's testimony."—Colonist.

We gained our impression of the commander's evidence from the report in our contemporary's own columns. According to this the witness, "questioned as to what extent the shore batteries might have been expected to contend with the German ships supposed to be in the vicinity, he stated that they should have been able to cope with the ships known to be here." He added that if the ships on this side were joined by the German vessels across the Pacific the forts of course would not have been an adequate defence. When the war broke out the only two ships within three thousand miles of Victoria were the Leipzig and Nurnburg. The others were at Tsing Tau. Our statement stands.

Now that Germany is intriguing, and apparently with some prospect of success, for a winter campaign in southern Europe, we are reminded of a prophecy by Herr von Jagow, uttered early in the year. By the end of February, said the Kaiser's minister, "we shall have smashed up the Russians. The end of March will see the finish of the French army. In April we finally will start reckoning with Great Britain, which I expect to be finished by the middle of May. All Germany's enemies will be finished before June, at any rate. Things are progressing excellently for Germany." To be sure the Kaiser amended this declaration by declaring that the war would be over by October, and October is yet young; but is it not possible that the German people may be losing faith in its prophets?

+ + +

The Tory newspapers of Manitoba declare with one voice that the ex-ministers of that province are being persecuted. They say Hon. A. B. Hudson, the Attorney-General, is a disgrace to his office. The offence of that official is that he is exercising all the powers with which he has been endowed to recover a million or so of dollars stolen from the public treasury and to secure the punishment of the thieves. The Norris government was elected by an extraordinary majority by the electors on a distinct pledge that it would do its utmost to clean up the mess made by the Roblin administration, and it is doing the work to the utmost of its ability and with all the celerity possible. There will be just such another outburst when the day for cleaning up and disinfecting arrives in British Columbia.

+ + +

Russia took Bulgaria out of the clutches of the ruthless Turk and set her up in business as a nation, yet there is a possibility that at the instigation of that exemplary Christian, the Kaiser, Bulgaria may be found fighting alongside of her historic oppressor against her defender and benefactor. There have been many curious complications in this unusual war, but such a possibility surpasses them all.

+ + +

President Wilson's innumerable notes have not been written entirely in vain. Germany has "disavowed" the sinking of the Arabic. We expect von Bernstorff delivered the disavowal without blinking an eyelash, but as long as thus the honor of the nation whose citizens have been murdered in cold blood can be satisfied, what business is it of ours?

+ + +

The political speech delivered by J. V. Paterson before the royal commission having been expunged from the records, why should not the harangue delivered by Sir Richad also be obliterated? But we do not know that the matter is of much consequence.

+ + +

Constantine of Greece, tied to the apron strings of his Hohenzollern consort, is attempting the role of dictator. The august dynasties of central and southern Europe appear to have decided that they all must hang together.

+ + +

Dynastic entanglements may prove the undoing of several of the minor powers of Europe.

HER DEBT TO LLOYD GEORGE.

Montreal Mail.

If, or rather when, Great Britain wins this war, she will owe no man a greater debt than she will owe to Lloyd George. His clear lead to the people pierces the censorship, and rises above the slow, even breathing of official and public apathy. His public career proves that he can look danger and discouragement in the face, that he can conquer against terrific odds. Speaking out frankly as he has done, he displays that confidence in his public that so many different classes in Great Britain place in him.

ALL EYES TURNED TOWARD THE BALKANS

London was pleased to-day over the news of the landing of allied troops at Salonica. This, it is believed, will make impossible the active participation of Greece with the Germans, and if need should come, the camp of the allies would form a rallying ground where Venizelos and his many followers could raise with safety the standard of revolt.

Roumania's Stand.

There was still uncertainty to-day as to Roumania's stand. It was considered probable, however, that neutrality on Roumania's part was the worst prospect before the allies. The announcement by Premier Radoslavoff in Sofia that Bulgaria would enter the war to wrest from "her foes" the territories taken from Bulgaria after the second Balkan war definitely put both Roumania and Greece in the class with Serbia, for all three profited by the plucking of the Bulgars at that time. Should the declaration of Czar Ferdinand that Bulgaria would "expand to the northwest and the west" be adhered to, it was pointed out here, the interests of Roumania and Greece would be menaced.

If the Germans and Bulgarians were to succeed with their programme and crush Serbia and if Bulgaria acquired Turkey in Europe, including Constantinople, Bulgaria would be strengthened so greatly that it would overshadow Greece and Roumania and be the dictator of the Balkans.

Such a possible development, it is believed here, the Roumanians and Greeks will oppose even if in Greece it should become necessary to overturn a dynasty to do so.

Off Varna and Burgas.

Beyond a statement that Russian squadrons were off Varna and Burgas, no news has reached London as to what moves Russia is making in the south. Reports recently current that Grand Duke Nicholas would head a Russian expedition into Bulgaria if it attacked Serbia were being repeated to-day in well-informed quarters. It was pointed out that not a single word of the activities of the grand duke has been permitted to pass the Russian and British censors since he vanished into the Caucasus, and the expectation here is that if Russia descends upon Bulgaria's Black Sea coast, the grand duke will be found at the head of the invasion.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, October 6, 1890.

The corner stone of the new Cathedral of St. Andrew was laid yesterday afternoon. The stone is a mass of fine granite weighing five and a half tons, and comes from Keefer's quarry, Burrard Inlet. Bishop Lootens performed the ceremony.

We understand that a bazaar in aid of the Esquimalt rectory fund will be held at the Blue Ribbon Hall, Esquimalt, on Saturday, Oct. 18. The band of H. M. S. Warspite will attend.

At a meeting of the members of the French Benevolent Society the agreement with the Royal Jubilee Hospital was ratified, and all that is now required is an order-in-council to sanction the amalgamation of the French with the Jubilee hospital. The consolidation will prove mutually advantageous.

Mr. A. J. Clark, for several years connected with the telephone system of the city, has been appointed manager of the Seattle branch of the Pacific Coast Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Friends Had Fight.—Because one could not find his ticket for Seattle, John Kallis and Emil Hakala, two perfectly good friends, became involved in a quarrel on Government street. It appears that the two had bought tickets for the Sound, and just before the departure of the boat, one could not find his ticket. He accused the other and they had a fight. Since being confined to the jail they have discovered the ticket and have become good friends once more. They asked the magistrate yesterday to let them go this time, and promised to leave for Seattle this afternoon. Their request was granted.

Diver Lost His Life.—A Japanese diver named Goichi Kawavi, who is employed on the Japanese navy repair ship Kwanto in Esquimalt harbor, was suffocated below water yesterday while down at work. In some way the air-tube which led from the pumps became obstructed without the knowledge of those above and the man was unable to give a signal. When his silence raised alarm and he was got out he was dead. An inquest was considered unnecessary. The body is being sent over to Seattle to-day for cremation, and the ashes will be sent back to Japan for final interment there.

AT THE THEATRES

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE.

For the last time to-night Maud Allan, the world-famous dancer, will be seen in "The Rug Maker's Daughter" at the Royal Victoria theatre. Miss Allan is primarily a dancer, a classic dancer, but she is also enough of an actress to give life to a character such as Demetra, the Turkish maiden, who is made the heroine of the story. Some of the most interesting scenes in the photoplay reveal the graceful dancing for which Miss Allan is renowned, and it is to the credit of the director that these exhibitions are worked in as a natural part of the story. Some of the most interesting scenes in the photoplay reveal the graceful dancing for which Miss Allan is renowned, and they are worked in as a natural part of the story. Adding appreciably to the romantic flavor of the story are luxuriant gardens and sumptuously furnished rooms in which most of the action is centred; the costumes are also all that could be wished. There will be a change of programme to-morrow when Blanche Sweet will be seen in "The Clue," a baffling drama with international complications.

STARTS AT DOMINION THEATRE TO-MORROW

COLUMBIA THEATRE.

Again departing from the beaten path in the production of feature photoplays, the Famous Players Film company have produced in "The Love Route," a film adaption of the famous stage success by Edward Peple, a feature entirely new to the screen. To see a railroad in the actual course of construction; to see the ties go down with all the implements and machinery necessary to the building of a railroad; to see the rails laid and spiked under innumerable difficulties produces a photoplay of unusual interest and merit. This unique feature is only one of many interesting effects included in this latest four-part film on the paramount programme, which is the current attraction at the Columbia.

Besides this unusual novelty, "The Love Route" has all the elements of a popular stage success.

For the balance of the week commencing to-morrow a big double bill of ten reels will be presented at the Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew will appear in a five-part Big Four (V. L. S. E.) Blue Ribbon production entitled "Playing Dead," by Richard Harding Davis.

Charlie Chaplin in a big four-reel revue entitled, "The Mix-up," provides the other feature of the bill, while the Pathe Gazette, showing the latest European war pictures, completes this all-star programme. There will be no advance in prices.

DOMINION THEATRE.

William Elliott, the latest stage star to be converted to the screen, through the Famous Players Film company's presentation of "When We Were Twenty-one," the great dramatic success by H. V. Esmond, the current attraction at the Dominion theatre on the paramount programme, brings a new personality to the film. The play is a clever, original subject, modern in treatment, with realism and sentiment mixed by a master hand.

Its story is a simple one. It turns on the determination of an old bachelor to save the son of his dead friend from the follies of youth—the youth of today. He takes the boy's sins on his own shoulders, and the sacrifice which he successfully makes results eventually in his own happiness.

Over every episode of the drama there is an atmosphere of life and naturalness that possibly does more than any other agency to make it a notable contrast to the customary photoplay of the present day. The general presentation of the plot and its divergent appeals is excellent.

As a stage production, the subject achieved a distinct triumph. From the applause that greeted the subject as exhibited at the Dominion last night it is a manifest fact that the Famous Players' film adaptation of this noted play will parallel or surpass the success of the original.

CROWDS AT PANTAGES.

Practically every seat was taken at Pantages theatre last evening, popular approval setting its seal on a show which for musical excellence, and general variety would be hard to beat. Victoria has demonstrated many times its regard for good music, but never more fervently than last evening when both the Lombardi Quintette, one of the finest organizations of its kind extant, and the Santucci trio, instrumental wizards, received a number of well deserved recalls.

Nor is comedy neglected on the programme. Charley Case, the inimitable, tells "stories about father" as only he can; the playlet, "Billy's Awakening" shows Howard and White in the funniest sketch seen here in months, while the Bottomly troupe, essentially wonderful gymnasts also know how to lighten their work with a bit of pleasant fun. Mlle. La Toy's dogs are as pretty and clever as ever.

When charged with being drunk and disorderly, and asked what he had to say for himself, a prisoner gazed pensively at the magistrate, smoothed down a remnant of gray hair, and said, "Your worship, 'Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn.' I'm not as debased as Swift, as profligate as Byron, as dissipated as Poe, as debauched as——" "That will do!" interrupted the magistrate. "Ten days! And, officer, take a list of those names an' run 'em in! We must keep this town respectable!"

A tenth part of the expense which is sacrificed in domestic vanities, if collectively afforded and wisely employed, would build a magnificent church for every town in England.—Ruskin.

Front Laced Corsets

Your Corset should be one that is designed for your individual type of figure. A common fault with Corsets, and one of which many women complain, is that the garment "rides up," that is, it slips up on the back. This is either because the Corset is not correctly designed or is improperly fitted.

A good Corset, and one that is correctly fitted, should remain in position all the time. It doesn't matter whether you sit, stand, walk, stoop, reach, dance or do anything else, your Corset should remain in place.

The Frolaset Corset shown here is suggestive of how all Frolaset Corsets fit.

The model that is designed for the growing girl is just as scientifically made as are the models that are designed for any other type of figure.

CHRISTMAS IN TRENCHES

Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., Preparing to Send Boxes of Cheer on November 1.

The preparation of Christmas boxes for the men in the fighting line has again come up for the consideration of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., and committees are being organized to look after various departments. It is intended to have the shipment packed and ready by November 1, which will leave sufficient time for the consignment to get to the men by December 25. All contributions of the kind enumerated below can be left at the Temple building, care of I. O. D. E., at any time before November 1. The shipment will be forwarded free of cost, and Mrs. H. C. Hanington, 1346 Stanley avenue, convener of the committee on "Christmas Cheer for the Trenches," will be pleased to give any further information required.

Plum puddings and Christmas cake may be sent, and are certain to be much appreciated. The puddings should be boiled in small tins, such as baking-powder tins, cocoa tins, small-sized molasses tins, etc., such as are to be found in every household, and would each contain sufficient pudding for one man. All paper labels should be taken from the tins, to leave a clean surface on which could be pasted any message the sender wished to append, as the tins will be forwarded direct to the men. Fruit cakes may be baked in small cake tins and left in the same way. Individual size tin boxes would be preferred, as these would save labor in delivery. Any good rich cake that will keep well, such as Scotch shortbread, rock-cakes, etc. Those who are unable to prepare puddings or cakes might send any of the canned goods in small tins, such as tinned salmon, sardines, lobster, George Washington coffee, salted almonds put up in tins which have been heated, honey in the comb as found in tins, etc.

Mrs. Thomson, with the assistance of a committee of young ladies, is collecting large boxes of candy; Mrs. Cookson is convener of a committee which has undertaken to collect mittens and socks, all of which will be much welcomed by the "boys at the front" in the parcels from home.

FRIENDLY HELP MEETS

Smaller Number of Necessitous Cases; Donations Acknowledged.

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendly Help association was held this morning, fifteen members being present. Mrs. Pilgrim, a new member from Victoria West, was welcomed. Much regret was expressed at the departure of another member, Mrs. Wood, who has gone to Vancouver to live, and the secretary was instructed to write a note of appreciation for the service which she had given in connection with the committee's work.

It was reported that many of the people who had been in urgent need of help had left the city, with the result that the demands and needs were much less pressing than in previous months. Clothes, provisions, etc., are still required, however, and the society will be very grateful for two mattresses, which are urgently wanted. The following acknowledgments were made:

STOLE PAIR OF SHOES AND BRAZENED IT OUT

Chinese Thief Sent Down for Two Months for Helping Himself to Goods in Store

A particularly "nervy" individual is Lim, a Chinese who appeared in the police court dock to-day on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes, the property of H. E. Munday. After his arrest he took the detectives, who had been attracted by his hiding of something under his coat, to a Chinese store and tried to get the proprietor there to admit that he had purchased the shoes there.

When this failed he took the long chance of taking the officers to the store from which he had stolen the shoes, and endeavoring to persuade a salesman that he had actually sold him the shoes. Then in the dock this morning, after it had been proved that he was a thief, he tried to convince the magistrate that he had actually bought the shoes and paid for them. The upshot was that he was sent to jail for two months.

Detective Macdonald described the arrest of the prisoner. About 5 o'clock he and Detective Murray noticed him ahead of them on Broad street, just north of Johnson street, walking along with something under his arm and concealed beneath his coat. They stopped him and asked what he had, finding a pair of new shoes with the tag still on. Lim said he had bought the shoes for $2.75; that the right price was $2.65; and he had given the man three dollars and got a quarter in change, producing a twenty-five-cent piece as being the one he had got.

The prisoner was taken to the office and then wanted to show the place where he "bought" the shoes. He took the officers over to Johnson street, down to Store street and then back along the latter street nearly to Cormorant street, where there is a Chinese shoe store. He brought them inside and said he would show them the "boss-man." There was an old Chinese there whom he pointed out as the man and, to whom he talked in their own tongue. After a few moments the old man shook his head and said "No."

When the detectives asked if Lim had bought the shoes there the old man replied in the negative, and explained that he did not carry that line at all. The accused would have it that he had made a purchase there, and the storekeeper apparently got mad at him and ordered him out of the place. On leaving there Lim said: "I will take you to another white man's place where I bought the shoes," and led them to Munday's store, 1227 Government street, where a sale was being held. The shoes there were all in bins and similarly tagged to the pair found in Lim's possession.

Lim pointed to a clerk in the store and claimed that from him he had bought the shoes, and then insisted to the man, W. H. Bridges, that the sale had been made. Bridges told them that he had had to order the man out of the store some time earlier, and that he had watched him off the premises for fear he would steal something. When shown the shoes the clerk identified them, and said the Chinese had evidently come back and taken them when no one was looking, which was possible with a crowd in the store.

W. H. Bridges coroborated what the officer had said and was positive that he had sold no shoes to the prisoner.

Detective Murray told of seeing the Chinese idling along Government street outside the Wilson store, which is within a door or two of the Munday store.

Thomas McEwan, an employee of Mr. Munday, identified the marking on the tag as having been done by him prior to the sale, and the shoes as being the property of the store.

Lim baulked at making a statement under oath, but said he would like to make one from the dock. This was a repetition of what he had told the detectives, that he had bought the shoes for $2.75, handed the man $3 and got a quarter change.

The court did not believe him, and sent him to jail. Lim seemed to be somewhat surprised at this.

APPOINT SECRETARY

At the regular monthly meeting of the Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter, I. O. D. E., held on Monday evening in the Y. W. C. A. library, Mrs. Sargison was elected "Echo" secretary in the place of Mrs. Wood, whose resignation was received with much regret. A testimony to the energetic and faithful manner in which she has worked for the chapter since its organization was put on record.

Mrs. David Miller, the regent, presided, and there were 35 members present. Mrs. Dorman reported that the members during the month past had given 74 pairs socks, 1 pair bed socks, 12 flannelette shirts, 1 muffler and 2 face-cloths. It was decided to send articles for hospital use to the Victoria Red Cross society and other things to the Field Comforts committee, I. O. D. E. Mrs. Bradshaw was elected from the chapter to act on this committee.

Members were reminded of the entertainment to be held at the Royal Victoria theatre on Friday evening by the Australian cadets. Notice was also given of the entertainment to be given by the High School cadets on October 20.

Nine new members were elected at the meeting, and it was reported that the book given for the month to the Y. W. C. A. library was "Pollyanna," by Eleanor Porter. Proceedings concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

SAYS RUSSIA IS TWISTING NOOSE FOR THE KAISER

London Editor, Calling Him "Mule in Trappings of War Horse," Predicts That Snow Will Be "Winding Sheet of German Hosts."

The news from Russia contains not one single item worthy of alarm, according to Horatio Bothomley, who publishes in John Bull an article, which has caused almost a sensation, under the title "Watch Russia."

He uses as the basis for his article the quotation from Owen Seaman:

Eastward the Russian draws you in his fold,
Content in his own land to bide his day.
Out of whose toils not many feet of old
Found the returning way.

The writer prays that the kaiser's troops may reach Petrograd and Moscow and even further inland. A hangman's noose, he says, is being twisted beyond the River Bug for the German emperor, "whose ambition may take him right on to the Siberian capital, for it is his dream to live in history as the man who achieved more than Napoleon could accomplish."

The Russians are never so dangerous as when they are rolling backward, says Mr. Bottomley:

"The loss of a battle, a fortress, a campaign, a province or a principality—all these things means nothing to them, for they give to-day that they may take back a double handful to-morrow. It was the moujik who beat the Corsican; the moujik will beat von Hindenburg and William. Remember this incident. After he had smashed a Russian army and overrun a province Napoleon collected the moujiks and told them that henceforth they belonged to him and France. They glared at him and gave him the lie. He shot some of them, but the rest were adamant. Then he had one moujik branded on the left arm with the letter N. 'Now,' he said, 'you belong to me.' The moujik lifted to the conqueror's face his bloodshot eyes under his shaggy mane of hair, and then seizing a hatchet, lopped off the left arm and let the bleeding limb fall at Napoleon's feet. 'That is yours,' he growled, 'but the rest of my body and my heart belong to Holy Russia and the czar.' And from that hour Napoleon realized what he was up against."

"Mule in War Horse Trappings."

William II. is being drawn yard by yard into the same trap which caught Napoleon, according to the writer, and ere long that chapter of unmitigated horrors will be repeated, in which the French flew before the pursuing Russians, when "life became hell and death a boon to be craved for."

Mr. Bottomley does not doubt the kaiser's knowledge of history, nor does he imagine that the German emperor ignores why and how Napoleon failed, but he says, "the war lord has been blinded by the gods and his vanity makes him think that he can ignore all the obstacles which caused the downfall of the Little Corporal.

"Vanity makes him believe himself a demigod; he is a mule in the trappings of a war horse."

The downfall is to be brought about in the folowing manner, according to Mr. Bottomley:

"He is aiming at Petrograd. When he gets there, if the Russians permit him to get so far, he will find a heap of smoking ruins. He will not be able to escape by sea with his army, for if the winter has not locked the waters with a key of ice the British fleet will take care of him. That he will not make all the mistakes Napoleon made is sure; he has history to guide him; he will doubtless attempt to build a railway behind his armies, to facilitate retreat and bring up food, ammunition and clothing, for he must know the Russians will never permit him and his to live upon the country; they will make it a desert, and what God forsaken desert the Russian soil can be in midwinter all travelers know.

"But the Cossacks will take care of any railway the Germans may build. They will scour the country by night and day, dashing in and darting out again when the work is done; they will make it impossible to maintain the long drawn out lines of communication, for to guard such a railway it will take 3,000,000 German soldiers, and Germany has not 3,000,000 men to spare for the job.

"In the long dark nights and in the driving snowstorms the hardy Cossacks can live and fight. They will raid the lines and rip them up. They will blow up bridges and culverts and eternally delay the trains; and, added to all this, Russia has a general who has never failed the country yet. His name is 'Gen. Winter,' and his staff are 'Col. Snow,' 'Col. Frost,' and 'Brig.-Gen. Cold.'

"Winter will upset everything. Snow will choke the railway that is not constantly cleared by ploughs. Frost will buckle ill laid, rapidly constructed lines of steel and warp lightly built and speedily patched up bridges, and Cold will kill and cripple all except the hardiest of the invaders. With such a general and such a staff, backed by the stubborn moujiks, and with a fine army choosing its time to strike, the ultimate conquest of Russia is the one impossible proposition in human life. The Russian cannot be beaten upon his own soil. Even if the Germans were to sweep the Russian army right back to the Ural mountains they could not for long remain in the land."

Every point gained by the Germans in their advance had been carefully discounted by the Russians, according to the writer, who have been falling back with one aim and end in view, and that aim was to tempt the enemy into an invasion scheme. As the Germans advance into Russia they are opening up a greater gap between their momentarily victorious columns and the source of ammunition and supplies. They will be leagues away from their bases, while the Russians will be in constant touch with all they require.

A melodramatic picture of the promised German retreat is given by Mr. Bottomley, who says that this expedition across the Vistula is going to be an epoch in German history. "Wolves and kites," he says, "will wax fat, and the soil of Russia will grow rich with German carcasses, until the very name of Muscovy will send a shudder through the kaiser's crushed and crumpled empire. They are marching into a world that ere long will be white with winter's mantle; the sound of their trampling feet, is like the sound of the surf on a seagirt coast; they are like a locust swarm sweeping over African veldt grass.

"Harvest of Retribution."

"But the end is not yet; those millions will not come back again; bones will bleach every mile wool white; and babes as yet unborn will suck from mothers' breasts the memory of the awful majesty of a Russian winter; for the harvest of retribution is ripening for the avenging sickle."

This wolf trap has been baited by three great, grim, terrible men, says Mr. Bottomley: Lord Kitchener, Gen. Joffre and the Grand Duke Nicholas. "They wanted those German myriads in the heart of Russia," he writes, "and step by step they have lured them inward to their doom."

The article concludes with a violent tirade against Germany:

"Watch Russia. She has been hurled out of Prussia like a storm; she will come back with an earthquake crash, and Germany will deserve her fate. She has degraded war to the level of wanton murder; she has crucified chivalry, crippled human progress, dishonored humanity and throned infamy on high; she has loosed the forces of lust and lawlessness, and made the sanctity of home of no account; on her brazen brow she bears the brand of the beast; her hands are red with murder; her bayonets are blunted on the breasts of unarmed peasants. Poland is trailing her hair in the dust like a widowed woman; Belgium is bleeding from every vein—her people shambled or driven, like sheep without a shepherd, into homeless exile; her fields devastated, her commerce blasted, the flower of her manhood mouldering in heroic graves. But the wolf is in the toils; the trap is closing; the Russian snow shall be the winding sheet of the kaiser's hosts."

Practically, one-seventh of Ireland's area is bog.

Well—that was "some" shave!

I would never have believed it

"I was told that it would pay me to throw away my old shaving powder and stick, and the rest of them and try this new Mennen's Shaving Cream. It seemed to me that all shaving soaps were pretty much alike, but, after this, Mennen's is my one best bet.

"I am converted—I am a 'Mennen booster' from now on. I did everything I could to make Mennen's Shaving Cream fail—using cold water and a dull razor blade. I thought it couldn't soften the beard without rubbing in—it did. I didn't think it would make a lather that wouldn't dry. The lather stayed fresh, and my face stayed moist. It was the easiest, quickest and most satisfactory shave I ever had."

MENNEN'S SHAVING CREAM

Mennen's Differs from Others

1—Absorbs an unusual amount of water, thus you need only ½ inch for every shave.

2—Lather remains moist for at least ten minutes, therefore no relathering.

3—The creamy lather will soften the beard itself. No rubbing in.

4—An indifferent razor makes good with Mennen's.

5—No "free" caustic, but ingredients soothing to the skin.

OVERSEAS COMPANY (Western Scots) TO LEAVE SHORTLY

INEVITABLE.

Odessa has been rapidly developing into another Hamburg, and, given the development of tributary railways, and canal feeders for the great rivers, there can be no question about Black Sea littoral becoming the granary of Europe. It is very largely due to the expansion of this Black Sea trade that Constantinople has become the foremost among European ports, showing shipping entries in 1911 equal to 20,169,000,000 tons, against 18,661,000,000 for London, 14,612,000,000 for Liverpool, 13,350,000,000 for Antwerp and 13,176,000,000 for Hamburg. It is plain that a trade of such proportions, and having possibilities so enormous, could not much longer have been left subject to the whim of the Sultan of Turkey or of the ruling clique at the palace. The freedom of the straits had to come in any case, and Turkey's rash adventure in war will merely hasten its coming. Whether Russia will care to assume the risk and cost of defending Constantinople, or whether the territory which controls the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus will be neutralized under international sanction remains to be seen. But it is certain that with the coming exclusion of the Turk from Europe there will begin a second era of economic expansion for Russia more brilliant than even that of the last twenty years.—New York Journal of Commerce.

SLIDE IS WORST IN HISTORY OF CANAL

Some Ships Are Being Diverted to Magellan Route; Great Tie-up of Shipping

Without doubt the slide which is now tying up traffic in the Panama canal is the most disastrous which has occurred since the waterway was opened a little over one year ago. The latest word from Washington, D. C., is that the canal may be clear by November 1, but there must always be taken into consideration the possibility of a second slide, which might occur as the dredges worm their way in towards the base of the cliffs.

Telegraphic dispatches from San Francisco last night state the American-Hawaiian Steamship company has decided to send three of its steamships via the Strait of Magellan. The Arizonian, Iowan and Nevadan, which were caught on the Atlantic side of the canal, have been ordered to continue steaming and not wait for the cleaning out of the waterway. Traffic may be resumed by November 1, but there is the probability that a postponement will be necessary.

Taking No Chance.

It will take these ships nearly thirty days to make the circle of the South American continent. If the canal is open on November 1, these ships will be several days behind, but on the other hand the owners are taking a good chance, and if the postponement does come they will be on the safe side.

Nothing has been learned as to whether any of the other companies intend to divert their ships. Many vessels are tied up at both ends of the canal. Four other ships of the American-Hawaiian line are held at Balboa, but nothing has been announced as to their future movements. A number of ships bound to and from Victoria have been caught by the slide, and all shipping schedules have been upset.

The slide is proving most costly to the importers of the United Kingdom. Tens of thousands of tons of wheat, flour, canned goods, lumber and other freight required immediately in the home land is being detained indefinitely.

Latest From Panama.

The latest news from Panama is as follows: "Lieut.-Col. Chester Harding, the engineer in charge of the Panama canal, has sent a message to the secretary of war at Washington recommending that President Wilson issue an executive order officially closing the canal until November 1.

"Colonel Harding explains that it will be impossible to clear the channel before that date and perhaps not then. He favors refunding the tolls to those ships which have paid them and are now awaiting passage, and also that arrangements be made to transship the cargoes of the vessels and forward them to their destinations. It is estimated, however, that it would require at least a month for the Panama railroad to complete the transshipment of the cargoes of the ninety vessels now in canal waters.

"The conditions caused by the new slide are the worst in the history of the canal, according to Harding. More than 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth must be removed before the channel is again deep enough to permit the passage of ships. The dredgers are maintaining a high point of efficiency and during September removed more than 1,000,000 yards. The work is being pushed energetically and canal officials are optimistic that eventually the danger of slides will be overcome.

"The agents of the steamship Finland, which arrived at Colon October 1 from New York, have received orders to send the ship to New Orleans, from which port the 300 passengers will be forwarded to San Francisco by rail."

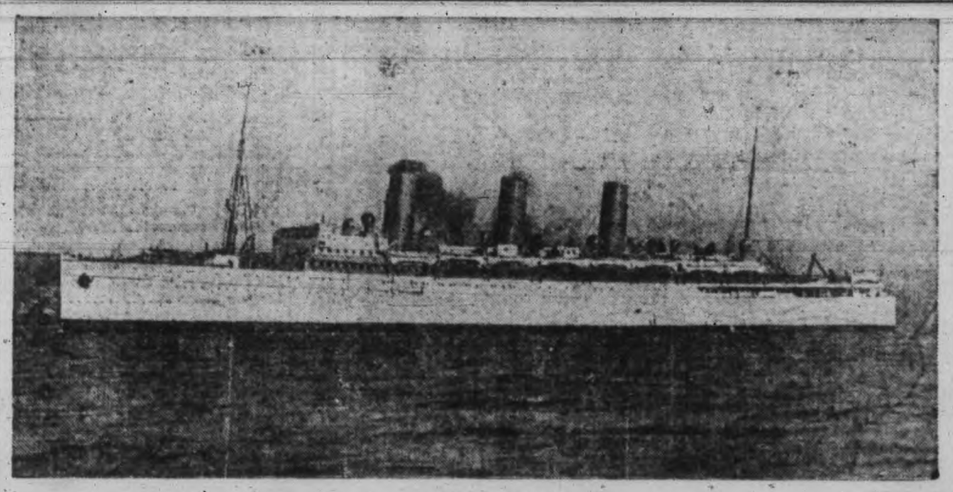
CRACK WHITE LINER WHICH ADMIRALTY IS SAID TO HAVE RELEASED



R. M. S. EMPRESS OF RUSSIA

AKI HAD PEACEFUL TRIP FROM ORIENT

Weather on Pacific Was Very Good; Expected Typhoon but Nothing Occurred

Favorable weather kept company with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Aki Maru, Capt. Noma, on 14 out of the 15 days she was crossing the Pacific from Yokohama to Victoria. Her master was greatly surprised to have such a splendid passage at this time of the year. At the outset he was looking for a typhoon, as the Japanese wireless stations flashed warnings to all ships at sea.

The Aki Maru berthed at the outer docks at 9.30 o'clock this morning, and large gangs of longshoremen started to work the cargo consigned to this port, which amounted to 740 tons. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the work was completed, and the ship proceeded to Port Townsend, where she will arrive just before sundown and receive pratique so that she may get into Seattle to-night, and set her silk cargo moving for New York to-morrow.

One Bad Day at Sea.

Two days after leaving Yokohama the wireless operator on the Aki Maru picked up a message from the land stations warning of the wide-reaching typhoon which was moving northward. The liner was put in fine shape to withstand the storm, but much to the pleasure of everyone on board the expected never happened. On Saturday last, however, the Aki ran into a very heavy southeast gale, but as the sea did not kick up to any height, she was not bothered to any great extent.

Word has been received here from the Orient that the Aki had a treacherous voyage, but Capt. Noma denied the story. He said that the trip was very pleasant, and that she arrived at Yokohama one day ahead of time.

Full Cargo.

The Aki Maru brought in a full cargo of Oriental merchandise, including 16,000 chests of tea and a shipment of silk worth $1,200,000. The local freight consisted of Chinese goods, tea, rice, beans and pepper, sake, miso, silk goods, rattan furniture, rubber and sundries. For Seattle she has approximately 6,000 tons of freight.

A large list of saloon passengers arrived. In steerage there also a fine list, and three Chinese and thirteen Japanese disembarked at this port.

EXPLOSION ON DESTROYER.

Newport, R.I., Oct. 6.—An explosion, followed by a fire, took place yesterday on board the torpedo boat destroyer Cummings while she was engaged in war manoeuvres off the coast. The Cummings was headed for this port immediately.

The explosion occurred in the forward compartment, and two men were burned badly by oil flames. The fire was soon extinguished, but it was decided by her commander, Lieut. J. C. Fremont, to start back for Newport.

The Cummings arrived here late yesterday.

SCHOONER WATERLOGGED

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 6.—A telephone message received here late last night from Crescent City says the steam schooner Mandalay is waterlogged off that port and asks that towboats be sent to her assistance. The Mandalay is owned in San Francisco by Hobbs, Wall & Company, and plies between San Francisco and Crescent City.

WALKED OVER ICE TO ASSIST A TRANSPORT

Story of How Eng. Lieut. Gordon, of This City, Won Honor From Russia, is Told

Since word was received here that Engineer-Lieutenant Alex Gordon, R. N., had been presented with the Russian Imperial Order of St. Anne (third class) by the czar, Victorians who are interested in the welfare of their fellow-citizens have been wondering for what important service this honor had been awarded. It was at first thought that it was for the excellent service he rendered while serving on H. M. S. Jupiter as an ice-breaker in the White sea.

Queries made by the Times have brought out the story of the brave deed done by a member of Britain's "silent service" which is worthy of record.

Helped Ship in Distress.

While his ship was threading her way one winter day signals of distress were observed coming from a Russian transport lying several miles off. Engineer-Lieutenant Gordon volunteered to make his way across the ice-field, furrowed by lanes and fissures, to examine and report on the ship's position. Donning the customary outfit of furs and wraps, he made his way down to the surface of the ice, and commenced his perilous journey. In many places the ice was heaped in hummocks and ridges eight feet high, but after running, leaping, and scrambling over the various obstacles in his path, he safely reached the Russian vessel and was hauled aboard. Engineer-Lieutenant Gordon made his way back again to his ship, and picking out a detachment of men from his own staff, returned for the third time across the ice to the ship in distress. After an adventurous voyage he brought the vessel to port.

Engineer-Lieutenant Gordon was for seven years a member of the B. C. Coast Service. He commenced on the Princess Charlotte, working up from a junior engineer to second, and was then transferred to the small boats as chief engineer. Previous to coming here he was in deep-water ships. Last November Gordon in company with Chief Engineer Coulthard left Victoria for England and offered their service to the admiralty. They were tried at Whitehall and passed well. Gordon was ordered to join the battleship Jupiter and she spent all the winter off Archangel keeping the port free of ice.

LAUNCH JOY-RIDERS HAD WEARY TIME IN STRAIT

Adrift in a small open speed boat from the early hours of last evening till the small hours this morning, a party of two young girls and two boys were finally picked up in the strait by a passing tug and brought into the harbor.

At 7.15 o'clock last evening the party set out from Esquimalt on a pleasure trip. They had travelled about twelve miles when their engine stalled. The occupants gave the engine a thorough survey, and finally discovered that the gasoline tank was drained. A dense fog hovered over and the open craft drifted seaward.

The flooring was ripped up and the party started, as they thought, to paddle homeward. Later, however, they discovered that they were making out to sea. After several hours of weary paddling a bright light came into view through the fog. It happened to be a tug bound for Victoria with a scow in tow. By this time the fog had cleared somewhat, and the captain stopped the towboat until the disabled craft was made fast. It was then towed into port. Fortunately the water was smooth. Had a heavy sea been running the small craft would no doubt have been swamped.

ASSEMBLING GIGANTIC CARGO FOR MINNESOTA

Liner Due at Seattle Friday on Last Trip From Orient; To Load 23,000 Tons

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Steady progress is being made by Balfour, Guthrie & Co. in the work of booking and assembling the vast cargo to be carried to the United Kingdom by the Great Northern liner Minnesota which will reach port Friday forenoon in her last voyage from the Orient. The huge steamship will have a capacity cargo of grain, lumber and canned salmon when she departs from Seattle on the long voyage to Great Britain via Cape Horn. The bulk of the 23,000-ton cargo will consist of grain.

The grain shipment will rank as the greatest of the kind ever carried by any one vessel either out of Seattle or any other port. While the exact figures are not yet available, the bookings to date exceed all previous high records from the Pacific coast. The grain will be loaded from Balfour, Guthrie & Co.'s elevator in Smith Cove and from M. H. Houser's elevator in West Seattle.

When the Minnesota shifts from one elevator to the other she will appear in the inner harbor for the second time in her history. In the week of the Shriners' convention she shifted from Smith Cove to the port's Bell Street pier to discharge shipments of cargo, this being the first time she had ever berthed at any local pier other than the Great Northern's Smith Cove terminal. Her lumber and canned salmon will be loaded at the Smith Cove terminal.

The Minnesota will load for London, Liverpool and Glasgow, sailing from Seattle October 28. That date will go down in North Pacific shipping circles as the day on which the Minnesota bade farewell to Seattle, the trans-Pacific trade routes and the waters of the Orient. For years Seattle has been famed as the home port of the huge steamship, but this distinction will pass soon to some other metropolis.

Merely Breaking Even.

Even with the rates prevailing in the trans-Pacific, the Minnesota has been merely breaking even in the Seattle-Oriental run. With the seamen's act in force in another month, she would suffer an annual loss of more than $100,000 if she were continued in the trans-Pacific route because of the act's lingual test. The increased financial burden to be imposed by the new law forced the Great Northern Steamship company to order her withdrawn from the Pacific. If possible, the company will sell her after she discharges her Great Britain cargo. If no purchasers appear, she will then be placed in the trans-Atlantic trade.

At noon on Monday the big steamship reported by wireless from a point 800 miles off Cape Flattery. She was then steadily cutting her way through the waters of the Pacific on her last voyage to Seattle, bringing to her old home port a great cargo of Oriental shipments. It is easy for the old salts of the North Pacific to imagine the seas of the trans-Pacific route booming a last farewell as they break against the leviathan's steel sides.

Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

NEW FREIGHTERS MAKE READY FOR LONG TRIP

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Purchased by the Alaska Steamship company to reinforce its big northern fleet, the former Great Lakes freighter Bennington and Burlington, sister ships, are now having their booms, masts, winches and other equipment placed in condition in New York for their long voyage to Seattle via the Panama canal. The company is taking full advantage of the temporary closing of the canal to make any changes and repairs that may be necessary to put the vessels in perfect condition for the voyage through the big ditch.

The Bennington and Burlington reached New York city a few days ago from Ogdensburg, N. Y., after an uneventful voyage down the St. Lawrence river and the North Atlantic coast. After they have been placed in tiptop condition, they will load cargo for the voyage to the Pacific.

The Bennington and Burlington are single screw, double-bottomed steel freighters of modern type, with a length of 244 feet.

The vessel will load steel rails and coal in Seattle and Comox for the Alaska engineering commission's construction camp at Anchorage. On the return trip she will bring canned salmon and ore to Seattle.

The Alliance will arrive in port tomorrow morning from Southwestern and Southeastern Alaska with 20,000 cases of canned salmon, 200 tons of ore and a full passenger list. She will sail on the return voyage north next Sunday.

A NEW SPIRIT.

In the past six months a new spirit has been at work in Russia. The problem of munitions is being tackled with an energy and an enthusiasm that are full of promise for the future; political ideas and principles that could not be discussed without peril in the past are now freely ventilated; old animosities are subdued, and political foes have united together under the influence of a common peril. In the stress of war Russia is being regenerated. It was a wise instinct that induced the Czar at such an epoch-making time to assume supreme command of the army and the navy, thereby in these bitter days of trial identifying himself more completely than ever with his people. Our able and well-informed Petrograd correspondent regards the Czar's decision as a guarantee that Russia is "determined to fight to a finish."—London Daily Chronicle.

GERMAN FINANCIAL POSITION.

I hear from a prominent official of the Banque de France (says the London corespondent of the "Daily Dispatch") that the very serious economic condition of Germany, which every effort is being made to hide from the world, is beginning to become apparent. My friend makes the statement from direct information he has received from the Paris house of Rothschild.

VANCOUVER PROTESTS SELECTION OF MAHONEY AS REFEREE FOR HOLIDAY FOOTBALL FIXTURE

Mainland Officials Want Dave Leith to Handle Match; Victoria Will Back Up Mahoney.

"Vancouver suggested Mahoney as referee for the Inter-City game on the mainland, Thanksgiving Day, and I for one will insist that he act in this fixture," was the statement of Secretary Jack Youson, of the Victoria Football association, to the Times this morning. A wire was received from Vancouver hinting to the effect that Vancouver United football team will protest the selection of Mahoney as referee, and they have offered to take either President Dave Leith, of the B. C. F. A., or Murphy, another mainland referee. The matter will likely be brought before the executive of the Victoria Football association, but according to Secretary Youson there is little likelihood of a change.

At last night's meeting of the V.F.A., arrangements were completed for the holiday game at Vancouver, together with details for the official V. F. A. opening next Saturday. President Manson and Secretary Youson will accompany the Victoria eleven to Vancouver, the team being chosen as follows: Robertson; Whyte (capt) and Taylor; Okell, Adams and Allen; Sherratt, Nichol, Pearson, Muir and Baker. Reserves—Ord (travels with team), Philmore and Grant.

Following is the schedule which was drawn up for the local series: On October 9, 67th Regiment vs. Wests, Thistles vs. Jacksons, 5th Regiment vs. 88th Regiment; October 16, 88th Regiment vs. Wests, Thistles vs. 5th Regiment, Sir John Jacksons vs. 67th Regiment; October 23, 67th Regiment vs. 88th Regiment, 5th Regiment vs. Sir John Jacksons, Wests vs. Thistles; October 30, 5th Regiment vs. Thistles, Sir John Jacksons vs. Wests, 5th Regiment vs. 67th Regiment; November 6, Thistles vs. 67th Regiment, 88th Regiment vs. Sir John Jacksons, Wests vs. 5th Regiment; November 13, Wests vs. 67th Regiment, Sir John Jacksons vs. Thistles, 88th Regiment vs. 5th Regiment, November 20, Wests vs. 88th Regiment, 5th Regiment vs. Thistles, 67th Regiment vs. Sir John Jacksons; November 27, 88th Regiment vs. 67th Regiment; Sir John Jacksons vs. 5th Regiment, Thistles vs. Wests; December 4, Thistles vs. 88th Regiment, Wests vs. Sir John Jacksons, 67th Regiment vs. 5th Regiment; December 11, 67th Regiment vs. Thistles, Sir John Jacksons vs. 88th Regiment, 5th Regiment vs. Wests.

Saturday's Games

67th Regiment play the Wests at the Willows, referee Goward; Thistles play the Sir John Jacksons at Beacon Hill, referee Allen; 5th Regiment play the 88th Regiment at North Ward park, referee Locke.

CARRIGAN WILL NOT NAME HIS CHOICE

Red Sox Continue Favorites at 13 to 10; Phillies Expect to Win

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—With only two days remaining until the opening contest for baseball supremacy of the world, the National league champion Phillies hoped to complete their regular playing schedule in a double-header with Brooklyn to-day and set about final preparations for the struggle with the Boston Americans. Rain threatened early to-day. It was expected that Manager Moran would use Alexander his star pitcher.

There is a feeling of confidence in the Phillies camp as to the result of the series. Captain Luderus thought it would be a close race. Philly stock has also gone up in the estimation of the betting fraternity. While the few bets that were placed at odds of 13 to 10 in favor of the Red Sox, several wagers were placed last night at even money. In an effort to give as many fans as possible an opportunity to see the big games, the Philadelphia club found it necessary greatly to curtail the allotment for the newspapers and public officials.

New York, Oct. 6.—A workout on Friday morning preceding the first game of the world's series, will be the opportunity the Boston Americans will have for practice on the field of the Philadelphia Nationals.

William Carrigan, manager of the Red Sox, had not disclosed to-day the name of the pitcher who will oppose Philadelphia in the opening game. Carrigan was quoted as saying that anything except straight baseball was usually barred in the world's series game, as the two clubs would meet for the first time.

"I realize that we must face Alexander in the opening game Friday," said Carrigan, "and I also know just how wonderfully clever is the curve ball genius of the National league. It seems we must beat Alexander in that first game, and we have devised a means which we think will accomplish it. Should we beat Alexander in the opening game the rest will be a lot easier than I have figured. Outside of Alexander I do not think any of the Phillies' pitchers compare with my men."

BOSTON FANS BANK ON BABE RUTH TO LOWER COLORS OF PHILADELPHIA TWIRLER

YOUTHFUL SOUTHPAW MAY BE STAR OF SERIES

It seems to be the prevailing opinion that Grover Cleveland Alexander, the people's celebrated star of the National league, will overshadow with his importance and ability any other athlete in the international world series between the Phillies and Red Sox, assuming that these teams will be the parties involved. It is certain that the presence of Alexander inspires much of the confidence that is now felt in the Phillies, and the confidence is only natural in a pitcher who is apt to win any time he starts, and who can start three times in a series that may be five or six games.

[illegible] who are already exhuming the statistics to get a line on the debate should not overlook this young man Ruth, the tall, lanky left-hander of the Red Sox, who may prove to be quite a stumbling block for the National league champions. In considering pitchers for a world's title it is customary to look to the veterans, but Ruth, though inexperienced in comparison with Alexander, promises to be an important factor for Boston in the series, as he has been all season.

While backers of the Quakers are strong along with Alexander, Bob [illegible] is counting heavily on his young southpaw, who joined the team late in the season and who, [illegible] in the first year in the big league, [illegible] Boston [illegible] West Point [illegible] star pitcher. Ruth's pitching strength is distributed, which may be a good thing in a long season, but may not be an advantage in a short series. It is unlikely that Wood will work in the opening series, and it seems likely that Ruth will be the man to step in as the main cog. It would not be surprising if Manager Bill Carrigan started Ruth against the green Alexander.

Ruth Leads League.

Ruth has made no such record as Alexander, but he has come close to it than any other American league pitcher. Considering the number of games he has taken part in, he leads the American league pitchers. He has an average of .8 with 8 victories and 6 defeats, and has 54 strikeouts to his credit. And in addition to his pitching ability Ruth is one of the most dangerous hitters in the league. He is apt to drive the ball out of the park any time, and has won several of his own games with home runs this year. He totes a batting average of .32 and weakens no batting order into which he finds his way. Moreover, he is a player without "nerves." Naturally indifferent and feeling no weight of responsibility he should make a good "clutch player." That, of course, is only an impression. It remains to be seen how he will act under fire in his first world series. However, it is in the pinch that he is usually best, and he is highly regarded in the American league.

Ruth owes much of his success to Jack Dunn, who was sponsor for him and got him into professional baseball, and much of his knowledge of pitching to Bill Donovan, who had him under his protecting wing last season at Providence. Ruth carried the natural ability in his arm, but Donovan gave him much of what he knows about using it.

MAYOR VERY CONFIDENT.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Mayor Curley, of this city, sent an invitation to Mayor Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, to attend the fourth game of the world series between the Red Sox and the Phillies. "To witness the obsequies," was the way the Hub executive worded his invitation, meaning that the Red Sox would win four straight. It is understood that the Quakertown mayor will accept.

BRACKEN TO JOIN THE WESTERN SCOTS

Barrieau Beaten at Idaho; McFarland Refuses Return Bout With Gibbons

Bob Bracken will shortly leave for Merritt, B. C., where he expects to meet Charley Thomas, of Spokane, in a fifteen round battle. Meanwhile Bracken is willing to meet Billy Weeks over any distance, the proceeds of the fight to go to the Red Cross fund or winner take all. All that Bob wants is a fight—with anything.

When he gets through at Merritt he says he's coming back to enlist with the 67th battalion at Victoria. Bob brought in an item from a Greek newspaper which he says is to the effect that Frank Barrieau was knocked out in the tenth round of a scheduled fifteen round go in Boise, Idaho, recently, and that Charley Pierson did the trick.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—"Packey" McFarland has set at rest all rumors that he would fight Mike Gibbons and permit him to make 154 pounds ringside. "Packey" said: "You can say for me that this talk of my fighting Gibbons again and allowing him to make 154 pounds is all bunk. I would not allow myself to fight Gibbons at over 150 pounds and get knocked out. That is what would happen, most likely, and I am not going to lose my good sense to that extent."

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Friends of Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh, Wis., middleweight, were advised by a telegram from Australia that he had been rematched to box Les D'Arcy, who recently knocked him out. Jimmy Clabby, of Hammond, Indiana, will meet D'Arcy next month, according to the message.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The recent ten-round, no-decision contest between "Kid" Williams, Baltimore, bantamweight champion of the world, and Johnny Ertle, the bantam of St. Paul, in the latter city, which ended in an unsatisfactory manner, has caused a great deal of talk and enmity between the opposing managers.

Sam Harris, manager of Williams, sends word that, just to show Ertle's manager that the Baltimore boy can make the weight, he will give him a chance at the title under the following conditions: "That the match be at 116 pounds with a side bet of $5,000 that 'Kid' Williams knocks Ertle out inside of twenty rounds. The match to be held before January 1; that the contest be referred by a competent man, the selection to be made from half a dozen well-known sporting men; that the winner take everything."

MEETING SATURDAY.

The postponed annual meeting of the Victoria and District Cricket league will be held in the Cathedral school room on Saturday night, when the different individual prizes will be presented, while the Champion Garrison team will receive the John Virtue cup.

RECORD BROKEN AT LEXINGTON TRACK

Mary Putney Wins $14,000 Futurity; Driver Grady Fined for Pulling

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—Mary Putney, owned by Chauncey H. Sears, of Fall River, Mass., won the $14,000 Kentucky futurity for three-year-old trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit programme yesterday, in straight heats and broke the world's record for three-year-old fillies by going the second mile in 2.05½. At that the San Francisco-Mendocitta filly was not fully extended. Hum Fast and Colorado Range finished second and third respectively in each heat.

William, world's champion pacer, driven by his owner, C. K. G. Billings, failed to lower his mark of 1.59½ to wagon, making the mile in 1.59¾. His fractional time was: 29¾, 1.00¾, 1.31¼, 1.59¾. Mr. Billings will make another effort Friday.

In the first heat of the 2.13 trot, Governor Mason, on the pole, managed to stall off the challenge of Peter Billiken in the stretch. In the second Governor Mason got away in front again, but Peter Billiken overhauled him at the head of the stretch, Governor Mason dropping back to fifth place.

The third was easy for Peter Billiken, who led practically all the way. In the fourth Governor Mason came back strong with Andrew Grey second and Peter Billiken in fourth place. The fifth was easy for Governor Mason, Peter Billiken again finishing fourth.

In the 2.04 pace, Cox laid back with Earl, Jr., allowing R. H. Brett and Single G. to lead well into the stretch, when he shook up Earl, Jr., who, in a hard drive, beat R. H. Brett by half a length. The pace was fairly fast, the quarter being reached in :31, the half in 1.00¾, the three-quarters in 1.31 and the mile in 2.01¼. Earl, Jr., repeated in the second, taking command at the head of the stretch and holding his lead in spite of a burst of speed by Single G. at the finish.

Grady was fined $100 for pulling out at the upper turn and allowing Single G. to come through on the pole.

Savoy ran two heats of the 2.20 pace when it went over until to-day.

TERMINAL RUGBY CLUBS ORGANIZE

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Four teams were entered into the Vancouver Rugby league for this season, with a prospect that two more will join at the meeting of the league delegates at the Y. M. C. A. The clubs entered are as follows: B. C. University, Highlanders, Snider & Brethour and Vancouver Rowing club. Delegates representing the Highlanders declared at the meeting last night that there is a possibility that two of the various units out at Hasting park would enter teams. The Highlanders may enter a second team and the 62nd and 11th are also considering the idea seriously.

The league season will open on Saturday, October 16, at Brockton Point.

WILL NOT COME WEST.

Montreal, Oct. 5.—Montreal Nationals, lacrosse champions of Eastern Canada, will not play New Westminster a series of games for the Minto cup and the championship of the Dominion. This was announced by the National executive to-day.

APPEAL IN AID OF STARVING JEWS IN RUSSIAN POLAND.

Millions of destitute Jews are literally starving and dying from exposure in these regions from the effects of the war. Their government is too much engaged and has not the means to help them.

They are without food, shelter, or sufficient clothing to withstand the terrible Russian winter.

This is the first time the Jewish community of Victoria has appealed to the public for aid of their suffering race, but the situation has become too vast for them to handle by themselves, and we are therefore compelled to appeal to your generosity for assistance. The money collected will be sent to the Jewish Relief Committee, of Montreal, who will forward same to the Jewish Relief Committee in Russia.

Subscription lists have been opened in the Times and Colonist, offices and the following banks, Royal Bank and its branches, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Bank of Montreal and Merchants' Bank of Canada.

JOHN TROTTER, WELL KNOWN HERE, PASSES

Had Been Resident of the Province for Fifteen Years, and Lately of Albert Head

There is very great regret among a large circle of friends of the late John Trotter because of his death, which took place on Monday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital, following upon an operation a few days before.

The late Mr. Trotter had been in poor health for a year, and in the spring he underwent a couple of operations, during the summer appearing to be recovering his old-time strength as a result. For the last week or two before he died, however, he was not feeling very well, and he re-entered the hospital on Wednesday last. Next day he went under the knife again for what was hoped to be an operation which would completely restore health, but his constitution had been so much undermined that he was unable to rally.

Mr. Trotter was born in Lambton county, Ontario, of Irish parents, in 1868, was educated in his native place, and was in business in the east for some years. Later he entered the service of the C. P. R. Telegraph Company and was with them for a few years in the east before he came out west for them.

He came to this province about 1906 in the employ of the company, and for five years was engaged in the Kootenay district as a lineman, in which capacity he was connected with the construction of the line of telegraph along the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the railway. From there he was transferred to this city, and was for five years longer employed as lineman on the island sections of the system. He was greatly trusted by his superior officers and was deservedly looked upon as one of the best men in the service of the company.

Four years ago Mr. Trotter took up farming at Albert Head and was making quite a success of it. He was keenly interested in the life of the community. When a new school was needed for the district he took an active part in the work of securing it and had the satisfaction before illness forced him to come in to the city for attention of seeing it opened and in operation. In the social life of the community, also, he took a large part and was very popular with all the residents of Albert Head and the Metchosin district. He was a genial, straightforward, likable man and will be greatly missed by his family and friends. Mr. Trotter married Miss Duke, who survives him with three children. There are also two sisters of his living in Saskatchewan and two brothers, Robert, living in Florence, and William, living in Utah. Mrs Duke is also living.

The remains are at the Thomson undertaking chapel, from which the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock, to the Metchosin cemetery. There will be a service at the chapel, Rev. J. G. Inkster officiating, and also at the cemetery.

Mr. Trotter was a prominent member of the Liberal partly, with which his sympathies were bound up from the days when, as a boy, he used to listen to Hon. David Mills speaking in the old riding of Bothwell.

AUTOMOBILE CAMPING

Development Association Has Secured Interesting Pictures of Californian's Outfit.

Reference having been made to Commissioner Cuthbert by several interested people regarding automobile camping-out, he wrote to Los Angeles regarding the matter, and to-day received a reply from Dr. R. W. Whomes, of Pasadena, who has sent along a number of good photographs of his automobile and trailer, bearing the camp outfit, and of the outfit in use before camp is struck to continue the journey. The pictures show how a whole camp outfit can be carried with an automobile, and are fully described in a long letter from Dr. Whomes.

During the summer one of these camp outfits was used at the Gorge by a visitor from the United States, who told the Development Association commissioner that he carried also his coal oil cooking apparatus, and illuminated his camp at night from his automobile electricity generated during the day's run. Mr. Cuthbert says it was a very modern and complete camp, and all carried with the automobile. He looks for much of this kind of tourist traffic next summer.

JAPAN'S ATTRACTION AS TOURIST LAND

Chilean Visitor Passes Through City; Medical Man Impressed With Country

Traveling to gain experience, an interesting passenger on board the Aki Maru, berthing from the Orient to-day, was Alfredo Matte, attache to the Chilean embassy at Washington.

Mr. Matte has been visiting Japan and China. He is a lawyer in his own country, which he says is suffering very severely from the European war. The demand for nitrates was adversely affected, and a financial crisis resulted, which, he states, is now passing away somewhat.

Mr. Matte has been greatly impressed with the opportunities afforded for trade between the west coast of South America and the Pacific northwest, during his visit to various centres before leaving for Japan. He hopes to see the agitation for increased intercourse take fruit at all points along the Pacific coast.

The facilities for tourist travel in Japan, and its growing popularity for Americans who formerly went to Europe, have greatly impressed Dr. E. C. Brackett, who with Mrs. Brackett returned by the same steamer after a round trip by the Aki Maru. "Nothing can exceed," he states, "the effort made to show the best of Japan, with its quaint customs, and curious national characteristics, to the leisurely traveler. I have found it one of the most delightful countries to travel in.

However to tourists who had English money with them, there has been a fly in the ointment—the erratic jump in exchange. The depreciation in the British sovereign owing to the war has played, he says, some strange freaks with the unfortunate person who had to obtain native money by some roundabout method of exchange. Naturally the traveler's pocket has suffered as a result of the transaction.

Dr. Brackett, who is returning to Boston, strongly recommends Japan for a visit, particularly as eastern travelers will see something of western Pacific ports on their way to the Orient.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB

Red Cross Concert to Be Held Under Auspices of Society on Oct. 14.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical club a Red Cross concert will be held in the Empress hotel ballroom on Thursday, October 14, at 8.30 p.m. The proceeds will be given to the organization whose good work has appealed to the sympathies of all. The programme will be miscellaneous, and will be given by the very pick of local artists. The admission to be charged will be fifty cents.

The arrangements for the concert were the principal theme of discussion at the meeting of the Ladies' Musical club yesterday afternoon. It was decided also to resume the regular winter series with a concert in the second week in November, which will permit time for three concerts before Christmas. The announcement that the society was coming into possession of a very fine grand piano created a general feeling of gratification, as it is felt that with an instrument of this kind there will be much more inducement to good pianists to appear at the club concerts, which will be held this year in the ballroom of the Empress hotel instead of at the Alexandra hall.

At yesterday's meeting there was quite an expression of optimism with respect to the prospects for the coming season. A number of new members were added. A new departure, in charge of Mrs. Davenport, recently of Tacoma, is being introduced in connection with the club. This is a choral class, which, it is hoped, will enlist the services of all active members. Applications may be sent to the president of the Ladies' Musical club, Mrs. Richard Nash, Pemberton road.

It is requested that all members make an effort to attend the Red Cross concert above referred to, and fuller particulars of which will be published in the course of the next day or two.

TARGET PRACTICE HELD AT SIGNAL HILL

Six Rounds Fired From Battery at Mark 8,500 Yards Distant

An interesting event took place yesterday which was experienced, if not actually witnessed, by many residents in the city, particularly in the Esquimalt district. This was the firing of the 9.2 guns of the Signal Hill battery. The event was arranged to take place some weeks ago, but owing to the persistent haze which has hung about the coast it was impossible for the gunners to see the target 8,500 yards distant off William Head. Yesterday, however, conditions were ideal for the practice, and the six-foot square of canvas anchored nearly five miles out in the straits was distinctly visible from the battery. The practice was carried out under the immediate direction of Captain Mulcahy, several spectators, including Col. R. Angus, O.C. of the C. G. A., and other officers and squads from the same regiment, witnessing the event.

Six rounds were discharged, three from each gun. Each landed within a few yards of the target, the first three slightly short, and the remaining three directly into the mark.

The practice was something in the nature of a celebration of two interesting events in Captain Mulcahy's career: his birthday, and the anniversary of his entrance into military service. Fifty-three years of age yesterday, this popular officer has followed the profession of soldering for thirty-five years. The Royal Canadian Garrison gunners who made such an excellent showing yesterday have been trained by him.

Recruits Wanted.—Capt. Mulcahy announces that he has been authorized to enlist a number of men for the R. C. G. A. for the duration of the war. About eighteen men are required. Three applicants enlisted this morning. Recruits should apply to Signal Hill Battery, Esquimalt.

TAX SALE OPENS THIS AFTERNOON

About 200 Parcels Are Offered for Sale; Nature of Auction

The city tax sale was opened this afternoon by City Treasurer Smith, about 200 parcels being billed to go under the hammer, allowing for those withdrawn from sale by the action of owners or agents in paying at the last moment.

There was a considerable crowd in the council chamber when Mr. Smith opened the proceedings. He explained that the title to property was even better than at past sales, because the court was empowered under an amendment to the municipal act to give service in the same way as a mortgagee, upon application to a supreme court judge, when the owner or agent of a property could not be found, and the purchaser desired to register the title at expiry of the redemption period.

The treasurer then opened the sale, and the first three lots were knocked down for the upset price.

Only one property registered in the name of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Co. appears on the list of properties to be auctioned.

The sale which opened to-day is the first held for two years, the council of 1914 opposing any offering of property, as a consequence of which the delinquent property of 1913, which should have been sold in 1914, is now on sale.

The property which is being sold is that delinquent for general taxes in that year, together with the general taxes for 1913 and 1914, and all local improvements charged to the property to September 15 last. This system explains the high dues placed against some parcels.

The property which has not been paid for by ten o'clock on the following day is to be redffered for auction, according to the statutory rules.

Persons owing money on property which have been duly advertised were paying up the necesary sums to stay their lands going to auction as late as 1 o'clock this afternoon. If the dues of 1912 were paid, subsequent taxes might be left over for future negotiation, hence the actual amount to be received by the city treasurer was considerably less than the advertised totals.

BRENNAN ON TRIAL IN STABBING CASE

George Addison Tells of Fight That Led to Alleged Assault in Hotel

James Brennan was placed on trial this morning at the assizes, charged with having wounded George Addison with intent to murder. There was a second count of wounding, and a third count of assault. The accused is alleged, according to the evidence for the prosecution, to have stabbed Addison in the Wilson hotel, Yates street, on the night of August 23. He is defended by J. A. Aikman.

From the evidence of Addison given this morning, which was similar to that given at the preliminary hearing recently in the police court, Addison and Brennan had been friends until lately. On August 21 Addison was, he said, in the Wilson hotel, when he walked by Brennan and two other men, one a very big man. One of them said "this is the man," and the big man then looked Addison over. Addison said he went to the other end of the place, where he had two friends waiting for him, and called out to Brennan, "Who's your friend?" referring to the big man. Addison said he did not mean to be offensive, but Brennan rushed at him and the other two men also came at him. He thought he was going to be beaten up by them, and struck Brennan in the eye. He then floored the second man and took on the big fellow, accounting for him also, "I weighed 138 pounds," Addison said. "After the fight I went out and later returned to the place about closing time, and heard that Brennan had been inquiring for me."

Addison stated that he went into the Wilson restaurant the following Monday, and spoke to a woman friend. He then went to the rear of the premises and met Brennan there. Brennan, the witness said, put his left arm round Addison's neck, and stabbed him with a knife in the lower part of the body. He tried to stab a second time, Addison said, but was prevented by the witness catching his arm. He called for help, and a friend came. Witness then ran to the drug store, where he received medical aid, and was sent to the hospital.

The wound was described by Dr. McMicking as being dangerous had not medical attention been obtained soon.

The evidence of Herbert Pearce and Minnie White, given in the police court, was placed before the assize court by depositions of the preliminary trial. The witnesses were not in court. It was shown by Mr. Barnard for the prosecution, through a number of witnesses, that Pearce had joined his ship, the Lena, at Vancouver, after the preliminary hearing, and in regard to Minnie White, it was shown that she is too ill to attend court. Dr. Raynor testified that she could be examined at the place where she is residing.

In the cross-examination of the chief witness, Mr. Aikman obtained the information that Brennan had befriended Addison, maintaining him for about six months. Witness said he had paid Brennan $5 on account of the cost of his keep, but hearing from men who lived with Brennan that Brennan intended to beat him up, he had decided to let him wait for the rest of the money.

The Brennan case is the last of the assizes, and following the verdict of the jury, prisoners already convicted will be sentenced.

Finds Loss Greater.—William Armstrong, Tolmie avenue, who yesterday reported the stealing of a quantity of chickens to the Saanich police, found after a more careful scrutiny of his flock that there were seventy birds gone instead of the fifty that he at first estimated as having been stolen. The police are working on the case.

During an engagement naval gunners insert a pad of indiarubber between their teeth, in order that the vibration of the guns may not give them what is known as "gun headache."

CHIEF DAVIS BACK

Returns From Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Convention at San Francisco.

The Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs convention, held last week at San Francisco, passed a resolution favoring the appointment of a traveling fire chief to confer with the various boards of commissioners and fire chiefs in order to raise the departments throughout the coast and western states to a higher and more even grade of efficiency. Chief Davis, who arrived on the Seattle boat to-day, says that the motion was heartily received as proposed by the Chief of Napa, and that the opinion of the underwriters' boards on the coast is to be secured before further action is taken.

The attendance at the convention was better than that at Victoria last year. Chief Davis' own paper on "Politics in Fire Departments" led to a great deal of discussion and found general approval.

The departments of San Francisco and Oakland put on displays for the visiting chiefs during the period of the convention. Chief Davis was one of three B. C. chiefs in attendance, the others being from Nanaimo and Prince Rupert.

The chief visited the Panama-Pacific exposition, with which naturally he was greatly impressed.

WIN RECOGNITION

Men Well Known on Island Are Promoted, or Gallantry Recognized.

A former resident of Victoria, S. Duncan Ellis, son of W. H. Ellis, has been gazetted to a lieutenancy in the Royal Engineers. Soon after the outbreak of the war Lieut. Ellis went to England and took the special officers' training course for a commission in the Royal Engineers.

Another Victorian has been promoted from the ranks and now holds a lieutenant's commission. This is John Anderson, who has been with the 1st Canadian Contingent in Northern France for the past seven or eight months. He received much of his early schooling in this city, later entering McGill University. He was in Alberta when war was declared, and at once joined the 14th Dragoons at Grouard, Alta., as a private. By sheer ability he has risen from the ranks to his present rank.

Capt. E. R. Tomlinson, 11th (Reserve) Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, has been selected for service on the staff as camp commandant, according to an announcement in a recent issue of the London Gazette. Capt. Tomlinson lived for some time at Somenos, near Duncan, and left for England soon after war was declared.

Temporary Capt. Montague Vernon Gore-Langton, 1st Batt., Irish Guards, has been awarded the Military Cross for conspicuous gallantry on the night of August 10, 1915, at Cuinchy. Capt. Gore-Langton was well known in Victoria and Cowichan district particularly, having lived with his brother, Lieut. G. W. Gore-Langton (18th Hussars), in the latter district for some time.

Shaughnessy Speaks in Optimistic Tone at Meeting of C. P. R. Shareholders

Montreal, Oct. 6. — Brig.-General Frank S. Meighen was elected a director of the Canadian Pacific railway, to succeed the late Sir Wm. Van Horne, at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the company this morning.

In his remarks to the shareholders, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was decidedly optimistic regarding the outlook, pointing out at the same time that it was not well to make predictions at a time when the country was in a state of general unrest. Good crops and improved industrial conditions, however, he believed were bound to have their effect.

The annual statement in some respects was the most satisfactory submitted for a number of years. The shrinkage in the gross earnings compared with the previous year was $31,000,000 and exceeded the entire gross earnings of the company in the year 1901.

"Taking everything into account," said Sir Thomas, "we feel that we may accept the outcome of the year as evidence of the very strongly entrenched position which the company occupies and we look forward to the future with buoyant confidence."

The general balance sheet of the company indicates that it soon will be a billion-dollar corporation. The total assets at the close of the fiscal year were $931,853,369. The actual assets at the close of fiscal year, cash on hand held as a working balance, amounted to over $29,000,000.

HOLDS BURDEN OF PROOF IS ON BRITISH GOVT.

United States' Note is Ready to Be Sent to Ambassador Page for Presentation.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Secretary Lansing indicated to-day that the settlement of the Arabic case had cleared the way for the dispatch of the note to Great Britain covering the general subject of trade negotiations and interference with American goods in neutral trade. The note has been completed and is ready to be forwarded to Ambassador Page. It is a lengthy document, covering the general situation.

It is understood that the note does not specifically cover the problems of the Chicago packers who are pressing the state department to make representations in behalf of products valued at many millions, held up, and, in part confiscated by the British prize courts. This subject probably will be covered in a separate communication, although the course to be followed has not been determined finally.

On the general situation, the American note, it is understood, contends that the burden of proof is upon the British government to show that goods of neutral destination destroyed or seized are intended for Germany, and that the assumption that all food products going to Germany are intended for German military use is not justified.

Discussion of the Lusitania case probably will be resumed soon with the German embassy here.

AUSTRIANS OUSTED; GERMANS IN COMMAND

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The German forces which were attempting to capture Dwinsk are operating with the same feverish activity as preceded the storm of Kovno. A field railway has been laid for a distance of twenty miles along the Wilkomir road. Heavy guns have been brough up in the face of enormous difficulties. Day and night a ceaseless procession of motor cars brings up supplies of shells. Cranes have been erected at many points to unload these supplies.

It is reported here that German generals have been appointed to the principal commands of the Austrian armies of General von Puhallo and General Boehm-Erdmolli.

TO RETURN TO STATES.

London, Oct. 6.—Robert P. Skinner, American consul-general, will sail for the United States within three weeks on a short leave. Mr. Skinner was unwilling to discuss the report from Washington that the American note to Great Britain relative to the detention of American goods would be held up until his return to Washington.

Appeal Made to Men of Motherland on Behalf of Trades Unions

London, Oct. 6.—An appeal for recruits for the British army was issued to-day by the authorized representatives of the three national trades unions, the parliamentary committee, the committee of the General Federation of Trades Unions and the executive committee of the Labor party.

The manifesto declares that tens of thousands of men of military age and fitness have not joined the colors. Stating that equipment and supplies of munitions for these men are ready, the manifesto urges that they assume immediately their share of the burden.

"Thirty thousand recruits weekly," the appeal declares, "must be raised to maintain the efficiency of our armies and secure such a victory as will free the world from the fear of that military tyranny which Germany would impose upon it."

HAVE APPEALED TO AMERICAN MINISTER

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, Oct. 6.—Telegrams received here to-day from Teheran state that the co-operation of the British and Russians in Persia and the British successes in Mesopotamia have made a strong impression on the Persians. KING WOULD BREAK TREATY WITH SERBIA

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Athens says that M. Venizelos, in an interview, declared that the resignation of the cabinet was made inevitable by the impossibility of reconciling his interpretation of Greece's treaty obligations to Serbia with the opinion of King Constantine on the subject.

The formation of a coalition cabinet is considered probable, the dispatch adds.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY DR. R. M. COULTER

Complaints Have Been Made That Papal Crown Appears on Postage Stamps

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Numerous complaints to the effect that Canada is displaying the papal crown on its postage stamps having reached the prime minister, an explanation of the matter has been furnished by the post office department and was issued Monday.

The complaints made were on the lines of those ventilated some time ago in connection with the alleged presence of the papal crown on Canadian flags. A letter received from a Montreal man asked on what authority, in the design of the postage stamp, a change had been made in the cross surmounting the crown which appears in the upper left hand corner, from a Maltese cross to a papal one. Enclosed was a clipping from a newspaper which claimed that the Roman Catholic church was getting ready by degrees to take possession of the state.

A reply has been made by Dr. R. M. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general. He points out that on the death of Queen Victoria it was decided to place the crown on Canadian stamps. The design was submitted to the king. The same course was followed when King George V. came to the throne.

The crown which was placed on the king's head at his coronation, known as St. Edward's crown, was placed on the new stamp issued here at the time, a design having been submitted first to the king and approved by him. The stamp has been so issued ever since, no change of any kind having ever been made.

The department states that the change in the crown approved by King Edward to the one approved by King George was made without any outside influence of any kind being exerted. Any claim of ulterior influence having been brought to bear in regard to it is without any foundation.

"The stamp has been universally approved as being the most handsome stamp is the British dominions and nothing was ever said against it until the issue was raised by the newspaper called The Menace, for the reasons of its own," says Dr. Coulter.

Letters also have been received from time to time drawing attention to the alleged use of the papal crown on the Canadian flag. In this connection an explanation has been afforded by Sir Joseph Pope, under-secretary of state for external affairs. He points out that there is no such thing as a Canadian flag. What is so called is the red ensign with the addition of the Canadian arms, and which is properly intended only for use on the water. Large numbers of flags were supplied recently by Japanese manufacturers. Unfortunately the Japanese designers, in their ignorance, had combined the Canadian royal coats of arms, producing a result which neither was correct nor has any real similarity to the papal arms.

ONE OF WILDEST DAYS IN WINNIPEG'S HISTORY

Winnipeg, Oct. 6.—One of the wildest markets in the history of the Winnipeg grain exchange closed with October up 5¼. Bad weather, shorts covering and an unusual export demand were given as the reasons, with wild rumors of purchases in bulk by European governments. There was good buying by the export trade, though possibly not so heavy as on the previous day. The weather and the cable markets, with some assistance from shorts, were the real causes. A great volume of business was done. In fact, it was one of the biggest mornings of the present crop year.

Grain receipts showed a shrinkage of about 200 cars. Cars in sight for to-day were 1,400.

Winnipeg wheat futures closed 5c. to 5½c. higher. Cash wheat closed 6½c. to 6¾c. higher for contract grades. Oats closed unchanged to 1½c. up. Barley closed 2c. higher, and flax 2c. to 2½c. higher.

UNSEEMLY PRESSURE INEFFECTIVE IN LIST

Some Stocks Dragged Lower but Others Were Buoyant at Session

Most of the list wore a listless aspect to-day and further softening attached to some issues. This reflected outside conditions, which were fundamentally uneasy in view of the latest phase in the Balkan situation. Even so, and in the face of much unseemly pressure, action in several local stocks savored of buoyancy.

Lucky Jim jumped higher and American Marconi, Standard Lead and Canada Consolidated were all three firm.

Coronation held solidly, but was disinclined to move up further.

PHENOMENAL RISE WAS SCORED IN WHEAT PIT

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Not for a long time have bears been treated to such an unpleasant surprise in wheat as was the case to-day. Prices gained from seven to eight cents a bushel and the pit session was the most active of many weeks. There was substantial covering of short contracts from start to finish and the impetus to the buying was received from latest complexities in the seat of war, coupled with the lesser influence of frost damage overnight in a section of the wheat belt. Haphazard feeling was responsible for erratic quotations that sometimes would move one-half cent either way on small transactions. Bears who fought the advance suffered dearly and the final appearance of the market was very strong. Other markets recorded similar action, taking their cue, as usual, from the Chicago fluctuations.

Action in corn and oats was a more even procedure, but levels in either case yielded to the bull trend in wheat, gaining roughly two cents.

CREDIT IS NECESSARY.

If the right to sell and to sell on credit is indisputable the question presented to the merchants and investors of this country is as to whether now is a time when it is wise to extend credit to our principal customers. The recent action of the exchange market strongly suggests the wisdom of extending credit. It would seem highly probable, if credit is not extended, that the foreign buyers of our principal staples will seek to get goods elsewhere. The recent sudden drop in the volume of our exports is in the nature of a warning. Munitions of war would unquestionably continue to go out even though no foreign credit were established here, but the mature judgment of those best qualified to judge seems to be that unless the exchange market is stabilized food and miscellaneous supplies will be sought and found elsewhere.—New York Globe.

HEAVY REALIZING WAS RESISTED IN STOCKS

War Specialties Had Declines; Hysteria of Bulls Being Curbed

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, Oct. 6.—Heavy realizing was encountered throughout the session. A fair degree of resistance to the declining tendency was offered on the down turn and signs were not lacking of an oversold condition in certain directions. A concerted effort is appearing to curb the hysterical buying which has characterized dealings during the past few weeks in specialties, and it would appear that weakness in this direction was thus induced.

ABBOTT IS GUILTY ON LESSER CHARGE

Jury Returns Verdict; Will Be Sentenced at Close of the Assizes

The assize court jury selected to try John M. Abbott charged with attempted murder and a second count of attempting to do grevious bodily harm, returned a verdict shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon of guilty on the second count. The act had been committed at the city police court room on Sunday, May 9, against Thos. Palmer, deputy chief of police, when the latter in accordance with his duty had ordered Abbott to remove his uniform and go off duty because he was under the influence of liquor. Abbott had changed his clothing and had then met Palmer in the court room, and had pulled the trigger of a revolver four times with the weapon pointed at the deputy. Because the mechanism of the revolver was deficient the gun did not go off.

Following the hearing of evidence yesterday afternoon Mr. Justice Clement summed up the evidence against the prisoner. He said to the jury there was not the slightest doubt that the prisoner had received a very sympathetic trial, and the occurrence out of which the trial arose was very unusual following the exemplary life the prisoner had lived, according to the evidence the court had heard. Therefore the jurymen might possibly be predisposed to think that a cog had slipped. This was what had been asked of them by the defence. Much sympathy had been shown by the witnesses, and this should make the jury all the more careful.

"There is a very good business rule," his lordship said, "that a man is presumed to intend the probable consequences of what he does. What was his intent? Had he pointed the revolver at the leg there would be an indication that he intended only to frighten or to inflict bodily harm and not to murder. Insanity rests on the accused to prove. As a matter of law there is no evidence of insanity. There is his evidence that he had been without food and sleep, and that he took three or four drinks. If the result was to rob him of the possibility of intent to murder, then acquit him. The defence of drunkenness is not favorable to judge or jury. You have to decide if he was an automaton. There is no evidence of insanity unless it is in the act itself. If there is any doubt in your minds remember that you should give the prisoner the benefit of it."

Evidence was given towards the end of the trial by Dr. Fraser who had attended the prisoner and found no evidence of insanity. He was suffering, however, from a melancholia.

John M. Langley, chief of police, said that in all the years Abbott had been on the force he had been well conducted as an officer and as a citizen. He had had a severe accident and an operation recently. Leonard Tait and John Keyes spoke very favorably of the accused, giving him a good character.

Abbott testified that he did not like liquor and seldom drank it. His accident had left him nervous, and he could not eat or sleep. He had intended resigning from the police force, but had been persuaded to stay on. Early in May he had suffered excruciating pain and could not eat or sleep. He had been in this condition while on duty at the Kaiserhof and had taken three or four drinks of foreign brandy to relieve the pain in his stomach. He had been called to the station and told to remove his uniform. He had then intended handing in his resignation, and had gone to the police court room to do so. From that time he remembered nothing until he had found himself in the police station with two detectives.

In cross-examination Mr. Barnard tested the accused's memory as to incidents regarding the Kaiserhof and accused appeared to have a very clear recollection of what occurred there.

Abbott will be sentenced at the end of the assizes.

CAMOSUN CHAPTER

Entertainment of Visiting Cadets Planned: Money Voted for Comforts for 67th.

The Camosun Chapter, I. O. D. E., met yesterday afternoon, the regent, Mrs. Croft, in the chair. There was a fair attendance of members. The secretary reported in connection with the preparations being made for the entertainment of the Australian cadets, who will arrive on Thursday from Duncan. She bespoke for them the patronage of all members for the patriotic entertainment which is to be given on the evening of October 8.

The committee appointed to consider the matter of giving assistance to the High School cadets in connection with their concert to be held on October 20 also reported, and it was announced that the Victoria Ladies' Musical club had promised the boys their patronage and assistance in preparing the programme. This year, it was stated, there were 170 boys on the cadet roll of the High school. But there were only 70 uniforms. The Camosun chapter had, therefore, entered into the plan of helping with a concert for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of uniforms, and will give, instead of the usual rifle, a sum of money toward the equipment of the corps. In urging the importance of the enterprise it was pointed out that twenty-three former High school cadets were now at the front, while several others were engaged in home defence.

The matter of doing something to help the Western Scots overseas battalion also came up for debate. An appeal was made for a little in the way of additional comforts at the Willows, and the chapter decided to give some assistance in the way of furnishing the hospital there. Mrs. Hartmann and Mrs. Andrew Wright were appointed a committee of two to purchase comforts, and a sum of money was voted by the chapter for this purpose.

BEACHES COMMITTEE TO MEET NEXT WEEK

First Gathering of New Organization is Set; Some of Its Objects

The preservation of the beaches around Victoria, which forms an annual subject of conversation among the city bathers was particularly to the fore this summer on account of the long dry season giving the bathers a special opportunity to use the favorite resorts. Added weight was lent this year to the agitation for improvement by the alleged acts of some boisterous persons, and by problems arising as to access to the beaches.

As a result Alderman McNeill introduced a resolution into the city council to appoint a joint committee, upon which members of the neighboring councils and representatives of the leading bodies in the city should have a place. The district councils and most of the organizations agreed to co-operate, and although delegates have been appointed for some time, the committee has not yet been called together. However a date has now been set for the meeting on Friday week.

As the resolution was drafted, the organization will have a twofold object, namely the improvement of the beaches and betterment of access thereto. Access can only be improved in places where the property of private owners runs down to the sands by the gazetting of road allowances, a prerogative of the government; and the controversy which arose over the proposed road along the Cowichan river owing to the protest of riparian owners shows that it is not an easy matter to make arrangements once vested rights have arisen.

Bathing tents under some responsible regulation are among the greatest necessities of the beaches. The Saanich council has made some minor improvements at Cordova bay this year, but a considerable amount has yet to be done. The council has also opened Cadboro bay to vehicular traffic by the continuation of the Sinclair road to the sea. The hundreds of people, however, who use Cordova, Cadboro, the Willows, and Fowl bay beaches on Sundays and holidays deserve better accommodation and facilities than are at present possible.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acid is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

THE AMERICAN COMMISSION.

On November 1, 1914, virtually the whole of Belgium was in the hands of the Germans, who closed all the avenues of food supply, reduced 7,000,000 people practically to a state of bondage and contributed nothing to their support. Early that month, through neutral representations, the first cargo of foodstuffs—less than 400 tons of wheat—was permitted to enter the country.

Up to the end of last June, according to the report of the commission for the first eight months, over 600,000 tons of foodstuffs for the Belgian section, of the gross value of $45,000,000, besides large quantities of other necessaries, had been delivered. In addition, in April, the commission undertook the victualling of about 2,300,000 of the French population in territory occupied by the Germans at a cost of $4,000,000 a month, covered by loans secured by local communities from the banks of Paris.—New York World.

Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before they be withered.—Zangwill.

"Tickets!" said the inspector, as he stood in front of a tramcar passenger the other day. The passenger began fumbling nervously through his pockets, and finally turned them all inside out. "Where's your ticket?" asked the inspector. "You can't have lost it." "Can't have lost it!" repeated the nervous one sarcastically. "My friend, I lost a base drum once."

THE SAME OLD SPIRIT.

How amazingly the call to arms has been answered in Scotland is illustrated by the record of the famous paper-making firm of Pirie and its employees. There were ten members of the family eligible to go to the front. Eleven are serving, one being long past service age. Of the office staff thirty-seven were eligible and sixteen are serving. Of the employees 180 were eligible and 140 are now with the colors, most of them in the Gordon Highlanders, recruited in Aberdeen and the adjacent region. Conscription would not greatly increase the supply of men from Scotland—Toronto Globe.

VINDICATION OF THE CANADIAN HEN

It is a remarkable fact that in past years Canada has imported more poultry and eggs than it has exported, and this despite the fact that the production of these commodities within its borders has constantly been increasing. The reason, of course, is that Canada's consumption of chickens and eggs has been increasing correspondingly. In the matter of eggs alone, individual fondness for this food is seen by the returns to have increased in twenty years more than 50 per cent. Some recent remarks critical of the Canadian hen and her contribution in national food needs have called forth an array of figures which show that, like her sister across the border, she is really acquitting herself well, as, for instance, in bringing up the production of eggs in the Dominion from over 64,000,000 dozen in 1895 to over 123,000,000 dozen in 1915.

AN INFAMY.

The one supreme virtue at this hour is fortitude. It is not merely foolishness to talk peace; it is an infamy. Peace now would mean the blatant triumph of Force, and we might as well pull down St. Paul's and erect on the site a temple to the Prussian Moloch. Let us quote the golden words of Burke on this subject: "War never leaves where it found a nation. It is never to be entered into without a mature deliberation. When so taken up, it is not to be abandoned without reason as valid, as fully and as extensively considered. Peace may be made as unadvisedly as war. Nothing is so rash as fear; and the counsels of pusillanimity very rarely put off, while they are always sure to aggravate, the evils from which they would fly." For Great Britain and her allies this is a war for Right, Liberty and Freedom, and the sentences of Burke might well be written up round the cabinet room if there were need. But there is none. The king and his ministers have a resolution of steel. So have the people.—London Daily Telegraph.

Hornpipes are so called from their having been performed originally to the Welsh pibcorn, or hornpipe.

OUR LETTER BOX

No responsibility is assumed by the paper for MSS. submitted to the Editor.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND.

To the Editor.—On the 5th inst. you published a letter signed by Mr. A. E. Churchill in respect to payments under the patriotic fund, in which he suggests a remedy "that might help along the solution of distributing money from the patriotic fund."

The remedy he suggests has been in operation since the commencement. There is an estimated scale of subsistence, which is followed in every case. In the west for a wife with children it is $37.50; for children, $7.50, $4.50 and $3, according to the ages. In the case of dependents of soldiers on the Canadian expeditionary force from this scale of living is deducted the separation allowance paid by the militia department (which for the wife of a private is $20 a month). If they have any private income or other source affecting it, it is taken into account and deducted.

Where the soldier is on active home service the only allowance paid in the past, provided they are reported to be in need, is an allowance for the children. The soldier in this case is expected to turn over $24 at least to his wife, and the militia department pays $13.50. The question of assistance for children of those on Canadian active home service is receiving consideration at a meeting held to-day in Ottawa, the decision of which will be known in a few days.

The fund is not one which is paid to the dependents irrespective of whether they are rich or poor. The act provides for its payment only in case of need. It will be found on looking into the examples mentioned by Mr. Churchill, where there is a difference in the amount paid it is equalized by other sources of income.

It is the duty of the trustees to see that the funds entrusted to them are wisely and justly administered. They must be economical, without treating the families with parsimony, and on the other hand avoid extravagance. The trustees are naturally anxious that those like Mr. Churchill who take sufficient interest in the matter should feel that the fund is being carefully and fairly distributed. It is necessary to have the assistance of every one. It is most important that those who go to the front leaving families behind should feel that their families are being looked after. It is a duty we all owe to them. It is necessary that every effort should be made to keep up the subscriptions. A large sum will be required for the current year. For the month of September assistance was given to some 700 families, the expenditure for the month being $11,610. It is for each one of us individually to do our utmost, not only in subscribing ourselves, but in suggesting to others the necessity of so doing.

We would be glad if Mr. Churchill or any other person who may be interested would call at the office and discuss the matter, as it is so much easier to make it clear verbally.

An Easy Way To Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through regenerative, re-constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the cheeks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. D. E. Campbell and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE.—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder, and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

The Siamese strive to have in their houses an even number of windows, doors, rooms and cupboards, for they have a superstition regarding odd numbers.

GOLD MINING IN LILLOOET DISTRICT

Old Legends Revived by Recent Activities; Famous Pioneer Mine

Lillooet, B. C., Oct. 5.—Four years ago an old Indian trail, winding in and out, to escape, if possible, the terrific gradients of Mission mountain and the climb up Cadwallader creek, was used by an occasional prospector to reach the range, which is only now becoming known as the prospective richest free milling gold producer in Canada.

The Dominion government was the first to recognize its potentiality, and even before a wagon road was built, installed a government telephone line from Lillooet to the Pioneer mine, 74 miles in length. To-day a wagon road from the foot of Mission mountain on Seaton lake, to the Pioneer mine on Cadwallader creek, allows the motor car to travel over an excellent roadbed.

In the old days miners paid twelve to fifteen cents a pound freight on the supplies they obtained at Lillooet, supplies for which they paid a cost price far above the original outlay. To-day the P. G. & E. railway lands supplies at the foot of Mission mountain from Victoria or Vancouver within a day of shipping, and a new era has dawned for the Bridge River district. The Dominion geologists, Messrs. Bateman and Camsell, were the first to point out the potentialities of the nine-mile diorite belt, which, starting at the Pioneer group, runs down to and across the Bridge river to the Wayside mine.

This season C. W. Drysdale, one of the rising young geologists of the present day, commissioned by the Dominion government to complete the investigations of his predecessors, confirms in every respect their predictions, and has tabulated data which when issued by the authorities will prove of inestimable value to the investor, the miner and the prospector on the Bridge river.

For twelve years, outside of intermittent work upon the Coronation and Lorne groups, and isolated development by small owners here and there, the district has suffered from the handicap of neglect. Traditions were handed down of four partners in the Lorne, who with an arrastra of half ton capacity, cleaned up one thousand dollars a day for three months, with two days off each week to dissipate their winnings at the Sucker Creek road house; of the three original owners of the Ida Mary, who with an equally crude arrastra, cleaned up eight hundred dollars every twelve hours, with the inevitable weekly visit to the same road house; also—but this is not tradition, but substantial fact, of Arthur Noel's lease on he old Bend 'Or,' now part of the Coronation mine. No one but Mr. Noel knows even approximately what he took out in the year he worked, but as he presented to his friends at least ten thousand dollars worth of specimen quartz—said by the authorities of the South Kensington Museum of Natural History, to be amongst the finest known free milling quartz—the amount must have been considerable. To-day a motor truck is packing heavy machinery to the Pioneer mine. C. L. Copp, the manager, instructed by the owners, Messrs. A. Williams and Ferguson, of Vancouver, is installing a saw-mill, a twenty-five-ton stamp mill and a compressor plant. The work is being rushed to completion before the snow falls, and will cost over thirty thousand dollars. The development on the Pioneer mine not only justifies the expenditure, but promises the owners a handsome return on their investment. Considerable development is being done on the Coronation group. Wm. Haylemore, the superintendent, having opened up two pay chutes on the Countless claim, on two ledges paralleling each other at a distance of 130 feet, which promise to equal anything yet discovered on the hill. A. Noel has taken an option on the Lorne group, and a crew of men will start work on it immediately. American capital is interested in this venture. Mr. Kinder, formerly owner of the Pioneer group, has uncovered a new ledge on his properties which bids fair to equal in richness his old property. Mr. Paxton, of Cincinnati, after four years of hard work, has at the Wayside favorable showings. The Golden Dream Hydraulic mine, under the management of Mr. Damm, is just beginning to show promise of returns for the large sums put into it by himself and his associate capitalists of Washington, D. C. A visit to this property alone would well repay the coast habitant for a journey to the Bridge river. Antimony too has been found, and considerable work is being done by some Vancouver capitalists. But the Bridge River district from where the Cadwallader creek flows into it to the head of the diorite dyke is essentially a free milling gold producer. Four paralleled ledges are known to cut this dyke—there are probably twice that number—and for every hundred feet they penetrate the earth's surface.

Messrs. Bateman and Camsell gave their opinion that there would be diminution in neither value or quantity or quality as depth is gained. The Bridge River mining district is coming into its own.

THE CONSCRIPTION POSITION.

It is believed by many observers (says the London "Spectator") that the government would introduce compulsion immediately if they thought that it would be well received throughout the country. But they do not want to divide the country. The country is ruled by the government, and the decision, whatever it may be, must come from the government. No other sort of decision, at all events, will have any kind of sanction from us. Within that reservation there is plenty of room for the work of the supporters of national service.

FRENCH RESIDENTS TO HELP COUNTRYMEN

Patriotic Society Organized Here to Work for Amelioration of French Troops

A French Patriotic society was organized at a meeting held on Monday at the home of Mme. Sanderson-Mongin, 1346 Harrison street. The following officers were elected: President, Mme. Sanderson-Mongin; secretary, Mme. Humphreys; treasurer, Mdlle. Pichon; committee: Mesdames Pauley, Pichon, Cayle, Cassagnbere, Bulte, Mongin, Roper and Rainaldi. The purpose of the society is to work for the alleviation of the French soldiers, whether actually at the front or disabled from wounds.

The committee will meet once a week at the residence of Mme. Pauley, 2640 Cook street, on Mondays from 2 to 6 p. m. Any Victorians who are interested in helping are invited to attend the meetings, at which means for improving the conditions of the French troops will be discussed. All the ladies of the organization have near relatives engaged in the fighting line with the French troops, and they feel confident that despite the many other demands made at the present time on the men and women of Canada that practical interest and sympathy will be shown by many in helping along any object for the amelioration of the conditions among the allies' forces. Intending members can obtain particulars at phone 3727L.

Arrangements have been made for a lecture by Mme. Sanderson on "Picturesque France." This will be illustrated, and will take place in the near future. Another member of the committee has given a pair of Breton sabots to be raffled, and the proceeds devoted to the work in hand. Mrs. Roper has received from Miss Helen Boulnois, now in France, a list of the things most needed by the French troops: Flannel shirts, long drawers, socks, belts, helmets, gloves, mufflers, handkerchiefs, kneecaps, sweaters, cloths to refit mutilated soldiers, etc.

TWO-THIRDS TAXES PAID

Saanich Will Have Sufficient to Meet Liabilities, but Caution Will Be Necessary.

The Saanich taxes for 1915, paid up to the period of rebate on September 30, are about 62 per cent of the total, and when the year closes it is expected that another seven or eight per cent. will bring the figure to a close approximation with the revenue of 1914.

This information was given to the council in works committee last evening. The sum mentioned, together with the arrears of taxes paid to date, and the proceeds of the tax sale, will be enough to wipe out the liabilities of the council, and enable it to meet its obligations to the end of the year on current expenditure. Owing to the shortage which will compel the council to find school board revenue at the expense of its maintenance fund, as the councils have to make up the loss when the school taxes are not fully met, the council will have to go cautiously to the end of the year.

The grading of Douglas street should be finished ready for paving early in the week after next, the hill immediately north of Cloverdale avenue requiring to be cut down first. Water mains have also to receive attention at this section.

The water main on Gorge road has to be altered to the north side of the road, but there is no doubt that the grading as far as Tillicum road will be ready for the paving by the time the contractors have finished on Douglas street. Work will be rushed in order to complete the paving during the dry weather.

YUKON POSTAL RATE.

Everard H. Fletcher, Inspector of Post Offices, Reports That Summer Rates on Parcels Will Be Retained.

The winter postal rates on parcels addressed to White Horse and Carcross, forty miles to the northwest of Bennett on the White Pass & Yukon railway, will be the same as those effective during the summer. This announcement was made by Everard H. Fletcher, inspector of post offices, who returned yesterday after a visit through the northern mainland and Naas River districts. The purpose of Mr. Fletcher's northern trip was to investigate the postal conditions at Ayansh, near the Tseux river, where arrangements are under way for the establishment of a regular mail service to Mill Bay at the mouth of the Naas river. The announcement made yesterday means that the regular parcel post rates, 10 cents per pound, will remain in practice for the Yukon, with a maximum of 70 cents on 11 pounds.

Mr. Fletcher called attention to the prevalence of the habit of enclosing personal letters with parcels. This was not only annoying to the postal authorities, but meant also inconvenience to the recipients who had to pay the additional postage when such letters were removed and subjected to the regular postage. Business letters in parcels are also forbidden.

OPERATES HOSPITAL IN STRENUOUS TIMES

Dr. J. M. Gaston, Passenger on Aki Maru, Speaks of Tsing Tao Conditions

The province of Shantung having been from its geographical position particularly to the front in Chinese affairs during the last few years, especially as the struggle for predominance between Japanese and German interests clashed eventually at Tsing Tao, the career of Dr. J. M. Gaston, who is in charge of a hospital at Lai Chow Fu, 100 miles from Tsing Tao, has been punctuated with many unusual experiences.

Dr. Gaston arrived with Mrs. Gaston on the Aki Maru this morning from the Orient. For the past seven years he has been operating this hospital in connection with the American Baptist church, and in that interval there have been all kinds of risings which have brought their toll of wounded to the institution, particularly during the revolutionary rising and during the bubonic plague.

Dr. Gaston says he treated Chinese injured in the Japanese movement on Tsing Tao, there being at that time many Japanese troops spread throughout the province, and they took over the telegraph and other lines of communication. The doctor established a Red Cross detachment, and was able to do some useful field work.

"Tsing Tao," he says, "is now a peculiar city, the German women and children, with a few old men, holding on to their property, knowing that if they leave the opportunity to return will not come again, and hoping that in the final settlement between Japan and Germany their ruin may be avoided by some provision being made for the people dispossessed. The administration now is entirely in Japanese hands.

"The anticipation in Shantung, as a result of the Sino-Japanese treaty, is that the province will become as thoroughly Japanese as Manchuria. The material resources will be opened out, and railway communication will be improved. Actual developments, however, await the conclusion of peace."

SOCIALISM AND THE WAR.

There is no disputing the fact of the immense increase of government operations resulting from the war, or the strength of habit and custom in perpetuating practices once undertaken. Nevertheless socialism has suffered heavily from the events of the European struggle, and its representatives have inflicted probably the most serious injuries upon their own movement. The breaking out of the war itself was a serious reflection upon the socialistic movement inasmuch as socialists had for years represented that the international character of their organization would prevent war. This, in fact, has been almost a cardinal doctrine with continental writers on socialism for years past. Nevertheless, the socialist members in the legislative bodies of most of the European nations voted solidly for the early credits and have but little to say against the continuance of the contest and the meeting of the heavy outlays connected with it. The facts in this regard are fully admitted and unquestionably constitute a cause of the keenest disappointment to leaders of the party. They have had to recognize that social instinct and the motives of national pride and aggrandizement have had vastly greater weight with the rank and file of the people than the precepts of international socialism.—New York Journal of Commerce.

Time was when some merchants vied with each other in extravagance of statement in their ads. The wise merchants of today vie with each other in the ACCURACY of their statements about goods and values. Nowadays deliberate misrepresentation in advertising would surely and quickly kill any store indulging in it.
